Benefit Ball To Be Annual Affair To Help Students

In spite of the chill swirling in the wind last Saturday night, a boost for the student union found its way to the surface, according to Joe M. Wheeler, chairman. It is to be an annual affair, with the proceeds going to help students in their second semester through "violent" bonds. The idea is to be held prior to final exams in order to enable the students to have the proceeds in hand for their financial needs. The proceeds were not as much as expected, but the money will be used as a start towards second semester.

Women Vote On-Co-Advisor

The executive board of the Women's Junior College, where Margaret Mason, president, and Marion St. Clair, vice-president, were in charge, voted to include three members of the student body on the board of advisors. The women's activities, which include the Student Council and the Junior Senate, will be increased in number as a result of this action. The women's physical education classes will be increased in size to meet the needs of the growing number of students. The activities will be held on the campus and in the community. The women's activities will be supervised by the student council and the Junior Senate.
