Moping o'er 1
the moat
By Bill Halbertson

The eighth Pan-American conference scheduled to be held next week at Lima, Peru, seems destined for success. Although no official had been designated, and conferences have been held in the past that did not achieve any result, there is no reason to believe that this meeting will fail. The purpose of the conference is to discuss the problems of the countries of the Americas, and to promote peace and understanding among them.

The conference will be attended by representatives of all the Latin American countries, as well as by delegates from the United States and British Columbia. The meetings will be held in Lima, Peru, and are scheduled to begin on December 23. The conference is expected to continue for ten days.

For the first time in its history, the conference will include representatives of several Indian nations, who will be invited to participate in the discussions.

The agenda of the conference includes a number of important topics, such as the development of natural resources, the improvement of transportation and communication, and the promotion of cultural cooperation. The conference is expected to be a significant step forward in the efforts of the Americas to work together for the common good.

It is hoped that the conference will result in the establishment of a Pan-American Union, which would serve as a forum for the discussion of regional issues and as a mechanism for the coordination of policies among the countries of the Americas.

- The Famous Idaho Pop Band -

The famous Idaho Pop Band seems to be warming up for a number. Last week, its single performance at the University of Idaho was received with great enthusiasm.

The performance, which took place on Friday, Dec. 20, was a resounding success. The band, composed of eight members, played an exciting set of popular tunes that had the audience on its feet, singing along and dancing.

The band's performance was a testament to the talent and hard work of its members. They had practiced for weeks in order to prepare for the concert, and their dedication paid off in a spectacular way.

The Idaho Pop Band is known for its energetic and entertaining performances, and this concert was no exception. The band's musicianship was impressive, and their selections were well-chosen, appealing to a wide range of tastes.

The band's success is not surprising, given its experience and the high caliber of its performance. The Idaho Pop Band has been a fixture on the University of Idaho campus for many years, and has a loyal following of fans.

- Our Band's Answer -

From: John Smith
To: The Editor
Subject: Idaho Pop Band

I am writing to express my support for the Idaho Pop Band. I was recently at the University of Idaho and witnessed their performance.

Their music was fantastic, and it was clear that a lot of effort and preparation went into it. I have been impressed with the band's previous performances, and this one was no exception.

Please continue to support this band, and I look forward to future performances.

The IDAHO ARGONAUT, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 2, 1938

SIGNING YOUR SHIRT AWAY

Hunpechee Go SUB Dancing

Miss Beatrice Olson, in traditional formal white dress, attended the annual Christmas dance at the Idaho State College, receiving the student of the year award, the highest honor that can be conferred upon her. The dance was held in the Student Center and was attended by over 500 students.

But the most exciting event of the evening was the unveiling of the new student of the year, Hunpechee Go, who was announced as the winner of the contest.

The dance was sponsored by the Student Council, and featured music by the College Band. Refreshments were served throughout the evening, and a large variety of food was available.

The Argonaut, the college newspaper, published a detailed account of the event, including photos and quotes from attendees.
