Women Face Pledge Pledge

Refunds plan will strike down pledgers at women's oratory society.

Two groups have decided to join the Women's Student Oratory Society, which is the first organization of its kind to be formed at the University.

The first group, called "The Pledgers," will consist of five women who have completed their studies and are active in the Society. The second group, called "The Non-pledgers," will consist of five women who have not completed their studies and are not active in the Society.

The Pledgers plan to hold meetings on a weekly basis, where they will focus on discussing and debating important topics related to women's issues. They also plan to organize community service projects and events to promote gender equality.

On the other hand, the Non-pledgers plan to hold meetings on a bi-weekly basis, where they will focus on discussing and debating important topics related to women's issues. They also plan to organize community service projects and events to promote gender equality.

Women's Student Oratory Society joins the Women's Student Organization,

The Women's Student Oratory Society has joined the Women's Student Organization, which is a network of women's groups across the country. This will provide the Society with a platform to connect with other women's groups and to share ideas and experiences.

The Women's Student Oratory Society is excited to be part of this network and to see how it can contribute to the larger conversation about women's issues.

Women's Student Oratory Society to hold first meeting,

The Women's Student Oratory Society will hold its first meeting on Monday, January 10th, at 7 PM in Room 101 of the Student Union. The meeting will include an introduction to the Society and its goals, as well as a discussion of upcoming events and activities.

All women students are encouraged to attend the meeting and to become involved in the Society. We look forward to seeing you there!
