Women Hear AWS Talent Program

A large crowd of university women attended the AWS talent afternoon yesterday afternoon. About 125 women were in attendance, according to an announcement read by Margaret Word, who was in charge of the event.

Well received was a novel idea by Margaret Word, chairman of the Women's Committee of the University, who suggested reading "The Little Brown Book." The program included an exhibition of art by Miss G. Campbell, two symposia for the students Miss White, Delia Hildebrand and Miss Word, and a panel discussion on the work of a woman in the profession, followed by a conference panel of ten.

The conference was held on Tuesday afternoon in the Women's Club. Conference Members will be asked to meet at 9 a.m., followed by a special session at 10 a.m.

Manca To Hold Conferences

All women who took correctives in the Women's Club were invited to a meeting of the club on Monday afternoon. The conference was held in the Women's Club, and a special reception period followed.

... Crosswords Or Courses...

Civil service examinations are the chief hope of most university graduates. There are, however, those whose aspirations go beyond mere survival. They may be interested in pursuing a field of study that is both challenging and rewarding. The Idaho Argonaut provides a list of courses and seminars that are offered in various locations across the state.

Twogood Rates OSC Division's Best Team

Judi from the conference standings, it will be a battle against Chicago tonight when University of Idaho's victory-starved Beavers meet Oregon State's Conference leading Beaver's tonight. The Beavers will give the Beavers a battle for the ratings tonight. Any team that fights like this over a phone is enough entertainment, and ability is surpassed.

The odds are that this present quash is a willing group of hoop players as he ever has to this date. The "quiet" off their vocalists before the first of the season, and even though they were in a single conference victory so far, their prospects are good in the opener against Oregon State. The Beavers, as a team, are going to be a plenty hard to stop.

Patterson Gardeners Work With Vandals

After nine hours of toil by 200, Portland residents spent the day outside in what is called a "tidying up" project. The group worked to clear an area near the building, removing weeds and other vegetation that could potentially damage the area. They worked diligently throughout the day, and their efforts paid off as the area looked much more inviting after the volunteers' hard work.

Minor Athletes Await Tomorrow's Test

A well-coached Vandall wrestling team today availed itself of its first opportunity to compete against another wrestling team, the Vandall High School wrestling team, at the Vandall High School this afternoon at 2 p.m. against the Vandall High School wrestling team.

An injury to Dick Tinker, candidate for the heavy- weight title in the Vandall tournament, set our hopes that he might be able to compete. His injury is still under medical care, but is expected to improve enough to allow him to compete in the tournament. The tournament is scheduled for tomorrow morning at 9 a.m., in the Vandall High School gymnasium.
