Home Ec Sponsor Evening

Approximately 110 people, from Grangeville north to the Clearwater line, are expected to attend the monthly Home Economic association on the campus Saturday. The day's program will commence at 9 a.m., and follow through 12 hours, according to Miss Dorothy B. Sayre, chairman of the arrangements.

Registration begins at 9 a.m. and will be followed by business meeting in the home economics department quarters. Marguerite Mithil, head of the department, will preside in the capacity of president of the state association. Room table discussions will be held afterwards. Some home ec exhibits have been prepared by home students for the exhibits.

Student club will present a program at a luncheon in the M.S. Bennett inn. The university string quintet will entertain the attendees, and a special highlight of the evening will be the annual home economics fashion show, sponsored by the Home Economics Association.

DAVIDS'
LETTERS
To The Editor:

Dear Mr. Mitchell,

I write to you in the hope of restoring some balance to the discussion regarding the recent events in South Africa. The actions of the Afrikaner Burger during the recent protests have been nothing short of reprehensible. It is important to acknowledge the legitimate concerns of the Afrikaner community, but these should not be used as an excuse for violence and barbarism.

Sincerely,

Spring Cleaning

No more paper readers often overlook the "Letters to the Editor" department. The unsolicited letters in each column are too often considered mere "grapes" to be picked by those who have nothing better to do. Several letters sent in to The Argonaut, however, have convinced me of the need to respond in order to help correct the impression that such letters are of no real importance.

A flare attack on ROYV officer tactics, for instance, gained my support. A letter criticizing the Italian-Ethiopian association's stand on the sales tax listener training program convinced me that there is a need for such criticism. A letter to the editor suggesting a unique campaign to help clean up the parks really touched my heart.

Naturally, you object to cleaning up the campus, you say, but what about the rest of the state and from other states to see the university on parade.

The study committee, of course, has been doing their work.

Students, however, cannot be expected in a schedule that they can do their work to clean up the place. They will expect a holiday for the job. It seems fair that the students are not expected to keep the campus clean.

Sincerely,

Trackmen Will Clash With Oregon State

If Truck Coach Mike Ryan has any kind of a with, it means that Idaho's warriors of the collegiate scene have been on their toes. Idaho has faced Oregon State three times already, and has won twice.

Demy Bull and Ralph Galt approach the Beaver's nest tonight with more of the same. It will be a battle between two teams that are well-matched in every way. The Beavers have scored 53 points, and Idaho has scored 52.

Vandal chances of winning are about equal to the chance of a neutron splitting in the air.
