Students Rejoice; Vacation To Begin Early Today

The inter-state commerce commissary in Washington, D.C., Mix said today that he was pleased that the epidemic would subside by the first of the week.

Cut Rules Effective.

The group decided that the 10 per cent grade cut ruling would be effective today of Friday. The next day is the first day that classes are out at noon. The 10 per cent grade cut will be given to those students who are absent from their last class on the day that vacation begins, or the first class when they return.

School will re-convene on January 23, as announced. Students who missed a last class yesterday will not be penalized, according to the registrar's office.

Committee Will Consider Bucket Expansion

The student-faculty committee appointed last Thursday to give final consideration to the recommendations of the ASUI executive board, and who scheduled an immediate meeting for the first day of winter vacation, yesterday appointed a committee to study the possibilities of expanding the Student Union and the Social Club and approved San day dancing in the Student Union building.

Group houses should not be scheduled for Friday, the council decided.

Groups Will Give Holiday Parties

To make those days not quite so long, and some of those night to be a bit brighter, three parties will be scheduled for those who will remain on the campus over the holidays. Two will be sponsored by the Faculty Women's club, and one by Delta Tau Delta, downtown women's club.

First of the parties, sponsored by the Faculty Women's club, will be held at Will's Sweetheart Monday night, 9:30 to 11:45. The other two parties will be held Wednesday evening at Pullman, 8:30 to 11:30.

Call Annouces Speakers For The NSA

Idaho deans, departmental heads, professors, and research workers have been scheduled for the period of the holiday season at the National Science Foundation, the scientific board of the university when its addresses and papers are presented at the annual meeting of the Northwest Scientific Association, Spokane, December 22 and 23, according to Dr. Floyd W. Gail, president of the association, head of the department of botany.

On the program are: A. W. Fath, associate professor of botany; Joseph Bonner; L. C. D. Cady, and Marvin Travis.

Fahrendahl To Speak

Dean Fahrendahl, known for his contribution to the field of forestry, will be the 'Estimate Benefit for Engineering Design,' by Joseph A. Stapp, special consultant to the Researcher Board.

New contributions will be made by the university research workers to chemistry and physics from the infancy whenever I feel they are capable to leave, Dr. Creelman said.

Men's halls will open before Christmas, and all women's halls will open in early January.

The halls will open at 8:30 a.m. on Sunday, December 22, and all residents will be assigned their new rooms by 11:00 a.m. on Wednesday, December 25.

No kitchens will be open for open. Robert Green. director of student activities, said that because of the small number of students staying.

The number of individual students was set yesterday when a number of 58 were either in the infirmary, or at home, or in the hospital. Another Illinois in the university during the holidays.

The office moved to reached such proportions as the present fiscal outlook.

Publication Board To Consider Gem Nominees

Executive Board Defers Action, Hears Cross-Country Team Complaints

At a meeting tonight, the executive board heard the report of the second annual list of the Mountaineers, yearbook. The board suggested that they be sub- mitted to the publication committee before coming before the executive body.

The board also heard complaint from Irving Alverheim and Phil T. Record, members of the faculty's office had ordered the three championship awards for basketball, to be presented Wednesday afternoon at Pullman, will be on an as scheduled.

Call Announces Speakers For The NSA

Idaho deans, departmental heads, professors, and research workers have been scheduled for the period of the holiday season at the National Science Foundation, the scientific board of the university, when its addresses and papers are presented at the annual meeting of the Northwest Scientific Association, Spokane, December 22 and 23, according to Dr. Floyd W. Gail, president of the association, head of the department of botany.

On the program are: A. W. Fath, associate professor of botany; Joseph Bonner; L. C. D. Cady, and Marvin Travis.

Fahrendahl To Speak

Dean Fahrendahl, known for his contribution to the field of forestry, will be the 'Estimate Benefit for Engineering Design,' by Joseph A. Stapp, special consultant to the Researcher Board.

New contributions will be made by the university research workers to chemistry and physics from the infancy whenever I feel they are capable to leave, Dr. Creelman said.

Men's halls will open before Christmas, and all women's halls will open in early January.

The halls will open at 8:30 a.m. on Sunday, December 22, and all residents will be assigned their new rooms by 11:00 a.m. on Wednesday, December 25.

No kitchens will be open for open. Robert Green, director of student activities, said that because of the small number of students staying.

The number of individual students was set yesterday when a number of 58 were either in the infirmary, or at home, or in the hospital. Another Illinois in the university during the holidays.

The office moved to reached such proportions as the present fiscal outlook.
J.O.N.N.I.E.'S R FOR A CHEERIEST CHRISTMAS...GIVE I.E.S. LAMPS AND GET THEM! The thoughtful gift of I.E.S. Lamps can't help but make your loved ones happy. Our lamps are of highest quality and are guaranteed to give satisfaction. They are a surefire way to make any home a cheery place. And remember, I.E.S. Lamps are also a good investment. They're built to last and, in many cases, are a real saving on your electric bill. Give I.E.S. Lamps this Christmas and you'll be giving a gift that's sure to please. With I.E.S. Lamps, you can be sure that your loved ones will have a cheery, lighted home all through the Christmas season. And, of course, you'll have the satisfaction of knowing that you've given a useful and practical gift that will be appreciated by all. So why not give I.E.S. Lamps this Christmas? They're sure to please and are sure to last. Give them today and make your loved ones happy this Christmas.
Peanut's replacement of Laval by Flindin means the eclipse, temporarily or permanently, of the Nazi's most loyal co-worker in Vichy. It amounts to a victory for Peatin and Weygand, French patriots and army officers, over a political opportunist who seemed to be willing to sell France down the river in order to become the führer of a puppet state. But Laval's dismissal will not check the unrelenting pressure of Berlin on the aged Marshal and his cabinet.

Flindin, tall and competent rightist who now takes over the foreign policy, has been long the favorite brand of "apparatchik" since 1938. It is probable that Hitler accepted the sudden shake-up of last Saturday as a concrete sign of faith in Flindin, his choice to be the European of 1941 and beyond, with a Nazified France through a puppet government. Flindin and Weygand still refuse to recognize the German annexation of Austria and are urging France on to a war song through unoccupied France on the way to rescue Graziani in Libya. The Führer may hope that Flindin, a smooth talker and authority, will persuade the obstinate generals to see the light.

The France that Peatin and his assistants claim to rule is divided along political, economic, and not representative, is backed by the ultraconservative groups—the upper middle class, the peasants, the Catholic Church, and the Army. These elements form a powerful minority, a minority which ended the war in June because it feared a revolution that would destroy the church and private property. Meanwhile, the workers in the industrial centers watch with growing resentment the control of the state by the foreign "puppet" realignment.

German bayonets protect the men of Vichy against revolution at home. Peatin may hold out against the more extreme demands of his latter enemy, but he knows that the future of his government lies in the Iron glove of Berlin.

Freshman Practice Fundamentals

Freshman Coach Walt Price has been keeping his University of Idaho football team on an almost strictly diet of fundamen tals since the first day of practice, under the same conditions as the gymnastics on Thursday.

With the holiday season over, the price will stay working out on an everyday basis with an eye on the upcoming game. He will be cutting his 35-man squad down to 30 by the time the season begins.

Squad Management

According to Coach Price, the squad is made up of 11 seniors, 12 sophomores, 11 juniors, and five freshmen. The squad has been split into three teams for practice.

Program

- Conditioning
  - Warm up
  - Run on the field
  - Throwing and passing
  - Running and blocking
  - Tackling

Future Dates

The squad will play its first game on Saturday, October 25, against the University of Washington. The game will be held at 2:00 p.m. in the Idaho Coliseum.

Visas To Expire, Dean Warns Canadians

Canadian students attending the University of Idaho who have non-immigrant visas should be aware of the fact that the visas will be canceled upon their return to Canada even for Christmas vacation, according to a bulletin of July 16, 1940. Dean of Men Herberl Wunderlich made the statement today after checking with immigration officials in Spokane.

Merry Christmas

From the BUCKET

BLOOR MOTOR CO.

3rd & Washington
Opposite Ford 9-4948

Best Wishes From O'Meara's

Holiday Treats

- Multiples
  - 3 for 2
  - 2 for 1

Goings Home

Student special for Idaho on the Northern Pacific to Idaho Falls via Spokane train, Monday, Thursday, January 5 and 9 of 1941.

APPY NEW YEAR Raffles

Many of the professors will soon reflect on the new year. They have been busy the past few months with their students in the classroom, and now they can rest and enjoy the holiday season. Professors and students will participate in a number of raffles and activities throughout the year.

From the Owl Drug

FROM THE MERCY CHRISTMAS & NEW YEAR PARTY

Here's wishing you a merry time during the holidays and the Happiest Christmas yet.

Moscow Steam Laundry

Spic 'n Span Cleaning