University To Have Annual High School Press Conclave

The third annual journalism conference of the Idaho High School Press Association, traditionally known as the Annual High School Press Convention, will be held on Wednesday, May 10, at 3:00 p.m. in the University of Idaho's Tenth Avenue High School Building. The convention is sponsored by the Department of Journalism, announced today, High School students from across the state will gather for the annual event.

Sister of high schools in the state, the convention is the result of the endeavors of the Idaho High School Association. The convention is held annually to provide an opportunity for high school students to interact and network with professionals in the field of journalism.

To Travel In Europe May Be Obtained For Low Cost

A travel agent will be able to obtain some low-cost air transportation for students preparing to travel in Europe during spring and fall through programs initiated by New York University, a national service organization.

Most of the students who have traveled abroad find that, while the cost is high, the experience of other cultures is well worth it.

A trip to Europe for a group of students is being planned. The trip will include visits to various cities and countries, providing an opportunity for students to explore and learn about different cultures.

Flight Instructor Training Open At Local Sky Ranch

A flight instructor training program is now open at the Sky Ranch, a private, commercial and flight instructor training facility. The program is being offered in collaboration with the University of Idaho, the local aviation community, and the Federal Aviation Administration.

The program offers students an opportunity to gain certification as a flight instructor, which is required for pilots to teach others how to fly.

A Date For The Committee

The university will host its annual fundraising event, the University Day Program, on Saturday, May 14, from 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. The event will feature a variety of vendors and activities, including food, games, and live music. The proceeds from the event will be donated to student scholarships and other university initiatives.
Students To Hear Educator Speak On Scholarships

Approximately 300 representatives of scholarship and fellowship students will hear Dr. John D. Delano, director of the Division of Higher Education of the Department of Education, discuss Federal scholarships to aid young people to attend college and the U.S. National Student Christian Fellowship sponsored hostel. Dr. Russell will address members and guests to be held this year at the University of Idaho at Moscow, Aug. 17 to 19.

President Tells How to Speak

One of the presenters who will speak during the convention will be President John C. Hunsaker, president of the American College of President of Boise State College, and president of the University of Idaho, and Dr. George F. S. Mathews, president of the American Council on Education.

An education scholar, Baker, professor at the University of Idaho, and Albert Stevens, governor of Idaho, also will indicate that they will address the University of Idaho at the conference, but apparently will not be able to make definite commitment.

Red, White Teams Assure Rough Till By Even Matching

Tomahawk afternoon witnessed the first gridiron battle in Idaho history. Conditions for the annual clash of arms will be ideal if the weatherman promises a high of 46 by tomorrow afternoon.

The game, played before an expected capacity crowd of 10,000, will pit the backed-for-the-brightside Red and White for the first time since the teams were founded.

The Red team will be represented by the better of the two schools and will be coached by Dr. H. C. Barr, associate professor of chemistry and agriculture.

The White team will be composed of the better of the two schools and will be coached by Dr. C. R. E. Ebbert, associate professor of chemistry and agriculture.

The game will be played with the object of determining which team is the better of the two schools and which is the better of the two coaches.
