New Game-Canasta

New games are making the rounds of our halls and they are soon forgotten. In this case, we have witnessed many such "instant" games. But first, let us know that there are some new ways of doing something, some new rules of playing that are more "natural" and less abstract. Just add that extra something, which at the moment seems as if it would make the game better.

Vandals To Meet Oregon, Both Coaches Are Warned

Harlow Reports Ducks Improved

Tomorrow afternoon at 3 p.m. in the University of Idaho stadium, the University of Oregon will face the Vandals in the opening game of both teams' football schedules.

Once great rivals, the teams met in Portland in the first two games in the series. In the third meeting, in 1908, when it was played in the Idaho capital, the Oregonians were favored, but the Vandals pulled off a stunning upset to win 6-0.

Coaches: The Vandals are coached by Frank H. Morris, the man who guided Washington to the championship; and the Oregonians are coached by Lee F. Bedell, one of the great coaches in Oregon college football. Bedell, a former assistant under George Bevan, was named coach of the Vandals by President Wilbur E. Moore.

Bedell, a former assistant under Bevan, has a great deal of experience. He was a member of the Oregon coaching staff when Oregon won the national championship in 1952.

The Vandals are favored today, but the Oregonians are still a formidable team. They have won five of their first six games and are ranked seventh in the Western Conference.

Idaho Adapts On Pacific Coast

With last week's 12-7 victory over Portland, the Vandals have adapted to the Pacific Coast Conference schedule and are now in second place in the conference.

The Vandals are 5-0 in conference play and have outscored their opponents 158-39. They have scored 10 touchdowns and have allowed only 97 points.

Oregon has scored 14 touchdowns and has allowed 66 points. The Ducks have scored 10 touchdowns and have allowed 66 points.

ASU Golf Tournament Is Announced
