Fijis Win Homecoming Trophy in Total Group Participation

Rally Or Burlesque Show? Let The Students Decide, Sir

Pil Gamma Delta captured the Homecoming participation trophy for the second consecutive year. The award, which is given to the class with the most credits in all of the various Homecoming activities was presented during the Homecoming assembly on Oct. 19.

Memorial Gymnasium was packed with fans who had turned out to see the exciting Homecoming parade. The enthusiasm was high and the spirit of spirit was evident.

The parade started at 9 a.m. with a lively float presentation. The floats were designed and built by the students and were judged on creativity, originality, and overall impact. The winners were announced at the end of the parade.

The Fijis were awarded the trophy for their dynamic and spirited float, which featured a massive Homecoming theme. The float was decorated with vibrant colors and eye-catching designs, capturing the essence of the Homecoming spirit. The students were elated and celebrated their victory with cheers and applause.

President John Martin of the Fijis expressed his gratitude for the support and hard work of his fraternity brothers. He highlighted the importance of community engagement and spirit in shaping the Homecoming experience for all.

The Homecoming festivities continued with the annual Homecoming football game, with the Fijis leading the charge in the Homecoming spirit. The game was filled with excitement and energy, as the students came together to support their favorite team.

The Homecoming week was a resounding success, with the Fijis and their fellow students creating memories that would last a lifetime. The Homecoming spirit was clearly on display, and the Fijis were proud to have played a significant role in capturing the Homecoming trophy.

The Homecoming spirit continues to flourish, with planning already underway for next year's event. The students are looking forward to another exciting Homecoming week, filled with opportunities to create lasting memories and foster a sense of community and pride.

WIC Men Homecoming Through Dorm.

The dormitory community was also a vibrant part of the Homecoming spirit, with various events and activities taking place throughout the week. The dorms hosted a range of programs, including talent shows, games, and voter registration drives, aimed at fostering a sense of community and engagement.

The dormitories were decorated with festive Homecoming-themed decorations, adding to the overall celebratory atmosphere. Students were encouraged to participate actively, with various opportunities available to showcase their talents and creativity.

The Homecoming week provided an opportunity for the dormitory community to come together, build bonds, and create lasting memories. The events and activities organized by the dormitories were well-received, with students showing a high level of enthusiasm and participation.

The Homecoming spirit was evident in every corner of the campus, with the Fijis leading the charge in the Homecoming Parade, which was held on the afternoon of Oct. 19. The parade was a highlight of the Homecoming week, with students from various classes and organizations participating enthusiastically.

The Idaho Argonaut
W.S.C. Maintains precedent with impressive victory

The Cowgirls of W.S.C., led by their band introducing the Idaho Vandals before an enthusiastic crowd of about 21,000 at University of Idaho's Memorial Stadium, won their own goal the only goal first period of play. The Vandals had advantage of the greater part of the second half and played well, but were outscored by the Cowgirls. The game was played for three periods of 20 minutes each.

Time Out by Costello

Lots of people were wondering how the Cowgirls would do in the game. The Vandals had done well in their previous games, but the Cowgirls were expected to do well too. The game was close, but the Cowgirls came out on top with a score of 3-1.

Scores Contradict Statistics at Season's Half Way Mark

Statistics really don't mean much in the game of football. Even though the Cowgirls have had a different record for their first nine games at the half way mark, they were victorious in the game against the Vandals. Winning their first game 19-0 over the Vandals, the Cowgirls' opponents have been slightly more difficult than the Vandals. The Vandals, however, have played well in their season, but have not been victorious in the Cowgirls' meeting so far. Winning three games and losing two, the Cowgirls are not on the winning streak they were last year, but they are close.

W.S.C. Leads Oregon for First Time Since 1949

The Cowgirls are leading Oregon for the first time since 1949, but Oregon will have the chance to overtake them next week. The Cowgirls are excited about the possibility of leading Oregon for the first time since 1949, and are looking forward to the game against Oregon.
