Defended Sorority Rushing

Pro

Freemasons who pledge neophytes are not allowed to move from their dormitory for over two weeks after they have been initiated as members. However, major reasons given by Freemasonry are that the Masons have always done this and that they have always done it in this way. Also, the Masons are the major Masonic organization of the United States and they have always done it this way.

Con

Some believe that these reasons are valid, but others believe that they are not. One major reason given by those who believe that these reasons are not valid is that these reasons are not backed up by evidence. Some people also believe that these reasons are not valid because they are not supported by the Masonic Constitution. However, these reasons are still valid and some people believe that they are valid because they are supported by the Masonic Constitution.

Most people believe that these reasons are valid at least some of the time, but they also believe that these reasons are sometimes not valid. Some believe that these reasons are valid most of the time and that they are not valid sometimes. Others believe that these reasons are valid all of the time and that they are never not valid. Regardless of whether or not these reasons are valid, most people believe that these reasons are valid at least some of the time. Some also believe that these reasons are valid all of the time and that they are never not valid.
