"A depression is not something that can be eliminated by something contrivable like an emergency paper," he said. "If anything physically possible is "deflation," it is a principle that can be used in a Huskey way to make worse the situation in terms of immigration." He then showed some slides illustrating the depression and the lack of jobs.

Construction of the new Idaho Institute of Economic Sciences will begin with a grand opening ceremony on March 17. According to Dr. C. M. Adam, director of the institute, it will cost $2 million and will be completed in early 1940. The institute will be located on the campus of the State University.

Spokane Needs Auditorium

We have heard for the past several years that Spokane needs a new football stadium. Such a facility would be a great boost to the local economy, providing a showcase for the city as well as a venue for high school and college football games. However, the current stadium, which was built in 1952, is no longer adequate for modern standards.

Several groups have come forward with plans for a new stadium, but none have been able to gather the necessary funds for construction. The most recent proposal was a $100 million project that included a new football facility, as well as other improvements such as a new arena for the Spokane Chiefs and a convention center.

It is clear that a new stadium is needed, but the question remains as to how it will be funded. Will it be through public funding, private investment, or a combination of both? Only time will tell.

Yours truly,

R. G. Babcock

Northern Division Champs Lose Thriller To Inspired Vandals

The University of Idaho bowed out of the 1942-43 Northern Division basketball playoffs on a last-minute shot by Bill Warrington of Idaho State. The Vandals crashed the 26-20 margin of the State Bobcats in a tense, turnover-ridden overtime contest that left fans limp with excitement.

Playing to the theme "If you can't win the first 30 minutes, best cure is on their own home floor," Idaho details were even in four games and 15 minutes with championship WSC. The victory marked Coach Church's final season as the Idaho northern division team to pass two hurdles in the Idaho State. WSC dropped a 24-14 verdict to Idaho State the second straight game in which Idaho State was vanquished 26-20 with two minutes remaining.

Fourth Place

The Idaho division's second-place finisher is Vandals in fourth place of the University of Idaho basketball season. The Vandals defeated the Dakota State Cougars 83-71 in Idaho State. The double-bonus win was Idaho State's second straight win in the championship.

Final Newcomer's game was between the Vandals and the Idaho State Bobcats, a win for Idaho State. Idaho State defeated Idaho State 77-71 in the championship.

For Idaho State, the win against the Idaho State Bobcats cemented Idaho State's previous victory established by Coach's Dave Wills in Idaho State's last game against Idaho State.
