Welcome Alumni and Friends

Alumni and Friends:
Billed officially and personally, I take this opportunity to join University and A.B.U. officials in welcoming all alumni and friends, including you, to this Autumn Academy planned, this is the season when all thoroughly enjoy returning to our alma mater.

In the warmest of welcomes to our student groups on campus and we are happy that everyone will survive so much energy as those of us who have been out of school. After all, it is nice to be "home town" again.

As a member of the Alumni Association I call everyone to the graduation and former and regret that its activities were not able to make this Homecoming memorable.

LEON WURST, President, University of Idaho Alumni Association.

Texas Western Scores Southwest Upset
By Bounding Idaho 43-33 In El Paso

Texans Tally Early; Hold Lead In Race Horse Game

Texas Western Miners from El Paso turned loose a hail of balls on their way to a 43-33 victory over the Idaho University Hogs on Saturday. The Miners scored 13 points in the first quarter and coasted to an easy victory.

In the opening minutes of what was called a major upset by experts, the Idaho Hogs were struggling against the fast-paced attack of the Miners. But the Miners quickly took control of the game, scoring 13 points in the first quarter alone.

The Miners continued their attack in the second quarter, scoring 14 points and establishing a comfortable lead. Idaho tried to mount a comeback, but the Miners held strong, scoring 13 more points in the third quarter.

In the final quarter, the Miners scored 13 more points, clinching the victory and securing their lead. The Idaho Hogs were unable to mount a final comeback, and the game ended with a score of 43-33 in favor of the Miners.

With the win, the Miners solidified their lead in the race horse game, and the Idaho Hogs fell further behind in the standings. The Miners are now at the top of the heap, while the Idaho Hogs are struggling to keep up.

Texas Western Miners coach John Glaves was pleased with the team's performance, saying, "We played a great game today. The team was really coming together and we were able to pull away in the final quarter." Idaho University coach Bob Ogle was disappointed with the loss, saying, "We were able to keep it close in the first half, but the Miners were too good in the end."
Thousands Converge On Campus For 1950 Homecoming

Alumni and Friends
Both officially and personally, I take this opportunity to join University and A.A.U.I. officials in welcoming all alumni and students of the University who have returned for the homecoming celebration.

With fine football as a natural feature, open house at the residence halls, many alumni activities planned for all, homecoming is giving renewed stature to our alma mater.

In addition to this, there will be a number of activities proposed by the A.A.U.I. and the University which will be a part of the homecoming program.

We will be pleased to have you join us for this most memorable event.

Idaho's Traditions-Activities Highlighted At Homecoming

Trends and traditions of the University of Idaho through the years were highlighted during Homecoming this week. But the activities which have been offered since the early 1890's have remained unchanged.

Blue and gold day, which is celebrated on the Friday preceding the 1st Saturday in October, is the first event of the Homecoming activities.

By Sheila Jannson

I saw the 1892 students sporting blue and gold sailor caps, and Spanish soil, and that brought back memories of the early days of the University.

The Good Old Days

It's hard to tell how many years have been written on the record book of a college baseball team, but at the risk of being guilty of a charge of being long on baseball and short on the record, I was not among the various witness on the subject.

Hesitating in the student probably means a change to be "hated" without being conscious. To this is as near a thing as you can get to a change of climate in the West Indies.

I remember, that when many others have likewise been forgotten on the stage of our college days, when a few years have been the measure of a couple of years, and some of the old, gone, to be the stages of today, back to the need.

On the other side of the fence, the student isn't home, this is the student's home, and this is the student's football game to attend. And it's perhaps that the student must have been a long rush in their behalf.

It's almost too bad to bring us, and show you the top of the game tomorrow.

And then the students, where we stood, we welcomed back and yourselves a good time.

And to this high school, we stand and wave, and it's good to hear us, and we'll make this year's homecoming a big thing that we will remember for the rest of our lives.

Vandal Celebration

Tomorrow is the big day. We are all behind in our studies. Who cares? We have to be ready for Homecoming. Trotting through the old school, approaching the last years of our school, with the familiar memories of the days, we must be ready for the game. And it is for the joy of the day.

Last year, the year 1935, the school was organized, and it was a success for the year. And this year, the year 1936, the school is organized, and it is a success for the year. And our school, the school of tomorrow, is organized, and it is a success for the year.

Homecoming Preparations Involve Students In Many Ways

HOMECOMING COMMITTEE—This is the group which is responsible for this weekend's festivities. Seated in the lounge of the new Student Union building, the committee heads of the Homecoming committee are, left to right: Norm Green, Paul Arpiehl, Grey Sher- man, Clarence Johnson, Chris Stroh, Ann Katesh, Jean Cervi, Virginia O'connor, Betty Thompson, Betty Reinert, Keith Judah, and Chairman Dennis Jones Bridges. Not pictured are Glenn Streblish, Brian Lawrence, and Mary Clyde.

HOMECOMING PROPHEY—Pictured with the many stained glass windows that will be displayed in the Washington Water Power window downtown is Bill Canen. Homecoming committee chairman, Mr. Canen, pictured in the stained glass window. The return of these windows will be announced at 4:44 a.m.

SUB CAFETERIA—Upstairs guests at Homecoming will probably want to grace a trip to eat and there isn't a better place than the SUB cafeteria pictured above.

BOWLING ALLEY—The modern equipped bowling alley will undoubtedly give campus visitors a chance to "stretch their legs" and try their hack with the boys.

LARGE BALLOON—Visitors who attend the game tomorrow night will enjoy this large balloon which they show to the music of Wyatt Newman and his orchestra. Tickets will be sold at the door for $2.00 a couple.

TEAM IN ACTION—The Yeatman gold mine, with a 2-1 win, has never, has been in every one of their games up to and including the final seconds. They should be in tomorrow's game with Oregon and if things are right at Vandolph, they may beat the Beavers.
Woes Of The Newspaper World

Every Sunday, folks seem to be lost in the pages of our fine local paper. How do they do it? Is it the quality of the print? The smell of the ink? The way the pages curl? Whatever it is, they seem to be able to read through it all without missing a single word. For those of us who struggle to keep up with the latest news, here are some tips on how to make the most of your Sunday paper:

- Read it in small doses: Break up your reading into manageable chunks. Take a break after each section to avoid feeling overwhelmed.
- Use a highlighter: Mark important points and facts to make them stand out and easier to reference later.
- Take notes: Write down key ideas and quotes as you read. This will help you remember them later.
- Draw connections: Try to relate the news stories to other events or people you know. This can make the stories more meaningful and easier to understand.
- Ask questions: If you don’t understand something, ask questions. This can help you clarify your understanding and learn more about the topic.

Remember, reading is a skill that can be improved with practice. So grab your paper, sit back, and enjoy the ride!

Dr. Stough Relates Extensive Trip
And Experiences In Distant Lands

On the 16th of August, 1948, Dr. Howard B. Stough left Moscow, Idaho, to begin his extensive journey to distant parts of the world. He planned to visit 66 countries and traveled over 24,000 miles on various air and sea routes. His trip was a lifelong ambition, as he had always wanted to explore the world's cultures and learn more about their customs and traditions.

The first country he visited was Japan, where he saw the historic Nippon National Museum. On January 26, he arrived in Nagasaki, the site of the atomic bomb drop, and later visited the famous shrines in Kyoto and Hiroshima.

The next stop was Egypt, where he witnessed the timeless beauty of the pyramids and Sphinx. He visited Luxor, filled with ancient temples, and Aswan, known for its beautiful temples and mosques.

In Europe, he visited many countries, including France, Italy, and Spain. He was particularly impressed by the art and architecture of the Churches of St. Peter's Basilica and the Pantheon in Rome, the Leaning Tower of Pisa, and the Colosseum in Rome.

Dr. Stough also visited Russia, where he met with Soviet leaders and saw the sights of Moscow and St. Petersburg. He described the Soviet Union as a land of contrasts, with its blend of modern skyscrapers and ancient palaces.

His trip continued to the Americas, where he visited Brazil, Chile, and Argentina. He marveled at the beauty of the Amazon River, the Andes Mountains, and the Patagonian Desert. He also visited the French and British Guiana, and the French West Indies.

In Africa, he visited countries such as South Africa, Kenya, and Ethiopia. He was fascinated by the wildlife and nature, especially the giraffes and lions, and the rich cultural heritage of these countries.

His final journey was to South Pacific countries such as Fiji, Papua New Guinea, and Australia. He was particularly impressed by the beauty of the Great Barrier Reef and the vivid colors of the coral reefs.

Dr. Stough returned to Moscow on February 16, 1949, after a seven-month journey. He was filled with stories and experiences, which he shared with his students and colleagues. His journey was a testament to his love of exploration and his desire to understand the world and its people.
