Eberhard Outlines Plan Of Bookstore Board

Eberhard outlined plans for setting up a student Bookstore Advisory Board. Leslie McCarty's appointment of Jack Scheller, vice president of the ASU executive board, to Tuesday night meeting of the ASU executive board was confirmed. The president of the Board of Directors of the Bookstore, an elected position, will run the store.

Committee Decides „I Sweaters“ Need Alterations

The committee was set up by Bill Multam, chairman of the bookstore committee, and made a survey of four student and faculty stores. The most popular sweater of the group was determined by the people's choice, but the committee thought it would be more profitable to make it available in smaller sizes, since many of the students had already bought the larger sizes.

Letters

To the Editor:

I thought that I would write a letter to the editor.

On the other day I was watching the campus, admiring the scenery, when I noticed a group of people fluttering from the flagpole, bright red and green, against the sky. It was a delightful sight, and I thought to myself, “what a beautiful world we live in.”

But then, I realized something.

It seems that there is a reason why I should not write this letter.

To the Editor:

Having just read the discussion on the topic of [insert topic], I must say that it was very thought-provoking. As a fellow student, I must add that some of the arguments put forward by the author were quite compelling. However, I believe that more research is needed on this matter.

Have your own thoughts on this issue?
