Joel Towles Will Oppose Lewies For Presidency

Junior To Strut Stuff
At Prom Tonight

Late last night Junior Week committee men cancelled the junior parade scheduled for Saturday afternoon, complaining of the administration and lack of interest, according to Jim Towles, general chairman.

Tickets, bow ties, tuxedos, and flowing evening gowns will be the order tonight as Junior Week swings into high gear with the traditional Junior Prom. Receiving line begins at 8:15 and dancing will continue under ceiling streamers of pastel shades.

Tickets for the formal affair are $1.50, and programs will be given to ticket holders at the prom from 3 to 6 o'clock in the Student Union bookstore, according to Jim Towles, Junior Week committee chairman.

Towles pointed out that T.E.N. actual driving power and force behind Student party. It is dedicated to those who were strong enough to see through the veil of aocracy of the "boys". They were able to do anything about it. It is dedicated to those Greek students who believe in democracy, but were defeated by T.E.N., in the nomination of United Students candidates.

Deobold To Head Phi Theta

- Phi Chi Thetas, women's businessmen, elected Arlene Deobold as president; Eunice Deiker, vice-president, in the mid-week entrances. Corresponding secretary; and Catherine McGreg, reoccupying secretary, for next year.

Mcelor To Head Betas

C. Melcor McCleod was elected president of Beta Theta Pi this week. Robert Robinson was named vice-president; Sherman King, secretary; and Louis Larson, treasurer.

FEBRUARY OF THE BOYS

This article is dedicated to those Greek students who "sit in the know" of the workings of Greek party politics.

Greeks nominated six candidates for ASUI Board. Five were nominated by the Greeks, chosen were Ed English, Lambda Chi Alpha, Mary Fran Marshall, Kappa Alpha Gamma, Mary Moff, Alpha Phi, Dan Susan, Alpha Chi Omega, Bill Richardson, Phi Gamma Delta; and Warren Wiberg, Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Before this week a full slate of candidates for the board was announced. There will be no reorganization for the rest of the year.

Just as informal as the prom is the Women's Prom Night Dinner. Bill Garley will furnish a large floor show including Phi Alpha Chi sisters, Kay Gross, Maria Jensen, according to Don Siner, and by Phyllis Butherus. Manley阑e will be master of ceremonies. Cabaret tickets will be sold at the Jensen's orchestra.

The Junior parade will begin at 2:15 Saturday afternoon, and will be led by the university band, and Penneliers. Each house is expected to enter a patriotic float in the procession, which will form at the Administration building, pass through the campus across town and end at the high school. Parade authorities have requested that Penneliers remain in the white hats at the assembly at 11:30.

Tuesday night junior men and women attended the annual junior assembly, the last meeting of the nine-man student board. The assembly was directed by Dennis Savage.

Campbell To Head IKs Next Year

Bill Campbell will be next year's head, Harvey Gruevos, Joe Garner, Maurice Johnson, Gordon Grubbs, and Dick Conner will be his councilors. The election is set for Wednesday night.

New arrive is Blaine Evans; his ancient, Jim McCluskey; treasurer, Dick Colophon.

Gamma Phi, Idaho Club Lead Groups

In First Semester Scholarship

Gamma Phi Beta sorority and the Idaho club ranked first in group scholarship contests last semester.

Fifty-two Gamma Phi Beta women topped all 29 groups on the campus list. Twelve places down the list the Idaho club's 117 men set the pace for the 18 men's groups. Thirty-nine had a higher average, however, before they learned the 12 fraternity ranks.

Lambda Chi Alpha, in 18th place, stood first among the 12 fraternities.

Group averages for the first semester were compiled by the registrar's office, followed by the number of members in the group.

Greeks Nominate Six Candidates For ASUI Board

Jim Towles, chairman of Junior Greek and president of the Interfraternity Council, was nominated by the United Students party for the ASUI presidency. He will oppose Harry McAdams for the presidency, in the election next Thursday.

Six candidates for the nine executive board posts were filled by the Greeks. Chosen were Ed English, Lambda Chi Alpha, Mary Fran Marshall, Kappa Alpha Gamma, Mary Moff, Alpha Phi, Dan Susan, Alpha Chi Omega, Bill Richardson, Phi Gamma Delta; and Warren Wiberg, Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Before this week a full slate of candidates for the board was announced. There will be no reorganization for the rest of the year.

Pelt will open at 9 a.m. Thursday and will close at 4 p.m. ASU president also will be elected at the meeting. Balloting will be at the Student Union and the results will be announced. (Continued on Page Eight)

On Bookstores

A possibility that the two bookstores on the campus—the Student Union bookstore and the Idaho club—soon would be operating under one management was bandied about at a meeting of the University student body Wednesday night. ASU councilman pointed out that the two bookstores, in recent years, have been losing business to other stores and would like to see a single bookstore. The idea is further fuel to the debate of the growth of the board of regents on bookstores.

Langswede also stated that President Harriman C. E. Darley has said that the university may purchase stock from the bookstores, but the amount would be decided by the board of regents. (Continued on Page Seven)

Communique Continues

Laval's return to power at Vichy adds up to a setback for the U.S. State Department, which has been using shipments of supplies to French North Africa and sweet reasonableness to keep the Vichy government on the side of the angels. The British have been warning Washington for four months that Marshal Wavre's new government would not go into the Vichy fold as long as Miller's army occupied the chief industrial regions and seaports of France. Some observers believe that a break between the U.S. and Vichy is imminent, but reports from the borders of Unoccupied France indicate that Laval plans to complete his purge of pro-Axis elements in the Vichy government departments before embarking on an aggressive foreign policy that may swing France into something of an alliance with the United States. If Laval takes over the post of Minister of the Interior in the Vichy cabinet, he will obtain direct control of the French police, which have been under a special pro-fascist investigation bureau on Gestapo lines which has been developed and extended in the past six weeks. We will use these agencies to collect evidence against government officials and local politicians who obstruct his program of making France into a puppet of the Reich. The Vichy cabinet, the departments of the central government, and the municipal councils of the Unoccupied Zone contain determined groups of anti-fascist moderates who have been quietly sabotaging decrees issued by Petain under pressure from the pro-Axis wing of the Darian ministry. We can expect Laval to be ruthless in his efforts to track down and remove from office the members of these groups. That may be one of the tasks assigned to him by the Nazis who have helped to put him back into power, which he was ousted by Petain in December, 1940.

Sudden increase in anti-Nazi activity in different parts of France in the past two days has been taken as an indication that Laval's return to high office meets with the urgent disapproval of a large proportion of the French people. Unfortunately, the bitter conflict in France between the parties of the Right and the Left in the years 1934-1940 has left Frenchmen divided into a number of antagonistic political groups that are unable to agree on a common program. Marking recrimination has been the order of the day in politics since the military defeat of June 1940. As a result, there are few party leaders who have retained the respect of the French public. The plain speaking allowed by Justice Cassis at the Geneva trials, belittled ex-queens Daladier and Blum to recoup some lost prestige. But class bitterness, fear of the effects of a Russian victory over Germany, and widespread lack of confidence in parliametary democracy render impossible the formation of a united front of anti-Axis Frenchmen against the new deputy-fuehrer at Vichy.

Know Your Bookstore...

Going to college is expensive. That's a known factor, but there are many short cuts to saving dollars. Knowing your bookstore is a sure method of saving pennies that soon grow into those welcome dollars.

The Student Union Bookstore is an Idaho institution and an Idaho tradition. Students have learned through years of buying experience that the Student Union Bookstore not only offers more quality for the same money, but the collegiate atmosphere prevails in the large stock of collegiate merchandise.

The Student Union Bookstore is owned and operated by... for the students of the University of Idaho with every need for every book carefully planned through the cooperation of the many professors in all branches of the university. No need for a higher education is too great for the Student Union Bookstore to supply at the lowest cost.

Get the Student Union Bookstore habit early and have extra cash on hand for extra savings.

The same savings that have been found at the Student Union Bookstore through the fall and spring semesters continue through the new summer term and the summer school session.

It's wise to know your bookstore.

Chimes and Songfest

Drummers were selected for women's groups and the annual chimes and songfest Convocation number one when theomas J. Mann and Doug Scale met yesterday with representatives to select which group would be the first for the fest.

War and scarcity of co-educational students threatened the tradition of this annual event. Therefore it was decided that first choice be made by the judges in the final two rounds.

Two days were scheduled for judging and choral directors were assigned numbers. Judges for this event were Dr. B. E. Babcock, Dr. E. L. Lundy, and Dr. F. E. Miller, each in the university and the state, respectively, to judge in the final two rounds.

Results of the judging were reported to the students: Sigma Chi finished first, Alpha Chi Omega second, and Pi Kappa Alpha third. Sigma Nova, Sigma Chi, Alpha Chi Omega, Phi Gamma Delta, and Alpha Chi Omega were all tied for fourth.

Chairmen of the various groups had to select at least two students enrolled in the university to represent their group in the choral concert of the annual chimes and songfest Convocation. Each entry was given an approximate number of students, numbers being added to the choral concert of the annual chimes and songfest Convocation.

A total of 175 students were scheduled to be represented in the final two rounds of judging.

Member of the university who were selected for this event included: Dr. Billy Heston, Dr. J. B. Johnson, Dr. C. E. Milne, Dr. F. H. Miller, Dr. E. L. Lundy, Dr. B. E. Babcock, Dr. H. C. Miller, and Dr. W. C. Moore.

A total of 175 students were scheduled to be represented in the final two rounds of judging.

Cindermen Open Season Tomorrow
As Vandals Meet Whitman

Vandal trackmen face their first intercollegiate test of the season tomorrow when Whitman, at Walla Walla, Air Force, a squad of 29 varsity twitchans and 10 freshmen accompanied by Coach Mike Ryan and Manager Gene Lanter leave today for tomorrow morning for Whitman.

Six Lettermen will be on the Idaho roster headed by Vic Drygalski, northern Idaho two-mile champion, and Milo Anderson, division discus winner. Other lettermen are Dale Clark, sprinter, LeVera Bell, weights, and Bob Brewer and Bob White, distance runners. Clark, first baseman of the Idaho baseball squad, is forsaking the baseball game for tomorrow to run with the Vandal cindermen.

The Vandals defeated Whitman 72-77 last year. Saturday's meet will also open the season for the Missourios. Showings in early drills at the Walla Walla school indicate a stronger team than last year.

Last season the Vandals were weak in dual meets, strong in the championships. Added strength in the sprints and hurdles appear to bolster Idaho dual meet changes. Top hurdler for the Vandals has been Dean Lewis, a transfer from Allcorn normal. Lewis has also given Ryan additional strength in the weight events.

Vandal Diamondmen Meet Lewiston Tomorrow

Vandal baserunners will make their second road appearance of the season tomorrow against the Lewiston Loggers. The Loggers and Vandals split a doubleheader here Tuesday, the Loggers winning the first game 6-5 in an extra inning and Idaho coming back in the nightcap 3-2.

Probable starting lineup for game was laid out last night by Guy Wicks, Idaho coach, and that Jack Crowley and Keverick Trenkowsky for their six tallies. Jack Tewhy and Idaho hitters with double and a single in three trips to the plate.

Two hit pitching by Keith Parks and Clark Woods gave the Vandals their one run edge in the second game. Both Lewiston runners were unearned, coming on Idaho errors. The Vandals made the most of their two bingles, getting three runs.
