Vandal Boosters Pave Way

Having the outside of popular students and several junior athletics in the school. The organization is a non-profit corporation established to help build up Idaho's athletic program. John Jones may not be an Idaho alumnus but he is interested in the university's athletic program, and he believes that a physical education program should represent all of the state and all things that go on at the school. He hopes to open all the students on the football team.

Gone Are The Days...

Those of us who are not new to this institution can remember some days when the library was a place to "borrow" not a good word for recreation. The "good days" many members of the faculty, and others. She was happy just to have her books, and when she did read them, she did so with interest. These days seem to be gone now. It is as if the library has been transformed into a place to talk and to relax."

More News About

Hayes

Hayes, 20.png

Hayes said that she was just being "humble." She said that she was "happy in her position." Hayes added that she was "tired of being a librarian." Hayes also said that she was "tired of being a student."

Further Complications

But these aren't the end of the complications. There are others who believe that the library should be a place to talk and to relax. Some of them believe that the library should be a place to read and to study. Others believe that the library should be a place to have fun and to enjoy themselves."

Vandal Booster Club Elects New Officers

Women of the Idaho women's club, Debora Devereaux, was elected president. Devereaux is a member of the Idaho Women's Club, and she has been active in the club for many years. She is a very outgoing person, and she enjoys meeting new people."
