Thanksgiving vacation, or the return of colder weather, has brought an end to the outdoor rowing season for Idaho students. For some, however, the rowing season may begin again the first day of January. The Idaho State College rowing team will compete in the regatta at the Duquesne University Invitational, held in Pittsburgh, Pa., January 13 and 14. The team is being coached by Dr. John E. Schuyler. The rowing season began in September and will conclude at the Intercollegiate Rowing Association national championships in April.

Eighty Students

The first day of the Idaho State College men's and women's basketball teams, which is also the first day of the season, will be held at the Memorial Gymnasium at 7:30 p.m. The women's team will play Pacific Union College, and the men's team will play Montana State University.

Streeter, who is 31 and one of the youngest members of the university faculty, began his experimental work two years ago. He was recently awarded a grant to carry on the research work.

Group To Continue Industry Intern Project For Year

In an effort to give young people, especially college students, the opportunity to work in the industry, the American Friends Service Committee is sponsoring the project. This is the fourth year the project has been carried out.

Several hundred dollars, raised in the past few years, will be used to finance the project. The money will be used to pay the salaries of the students.

Pedestrian Responsibilities

Pedestrians will be held to be at fault in some of the traffic accidents if they do not observe the traffic signals, even though the car may have the right of way. It is important that pedestrians follow the rules of the road to prevent accidents.

A pedestrian who crosses the street on a red light may be at fault if the car driver cannot stop in time. The pedestrian must be aware of his responsibilities to avoid accidents.

IRC Delegates

Debate Hypothetical As Cause Of War

"The cause of war is not clear," said the delegates from the International Relations Congress, who are discussing the cause of war.

"We believe that the war is caused by the desire for power and wealth. The desire for power and wealth is the root of all wars." said one delegate.

"The cause of war is the desire for power and wealth. The desire for power and wealth is the root of all wars."

Dear Jason,

Dear Jason,

No, I don't think so. I'm not sure if I want to go to the movies on Saturday. I'm going to be busy with other things.

Roswell Accepted

Peter Roswell, professor at the university, has accepted a position at the university. He will be attending the university in the fall.

Houses, Engineers Plan Pre-Christmas Dances

Despite the social calendar for this weekend will be filled with the usual social events, several groups of women and men have planned their annual Pre-Christmas dances. These parties will be held on Saturday and the TFCs are expected to perform their usual dance program. Dr. Thomas, of the Department of Drama, will choose their "Sweetest music" for the occasion.

Two Couples Tell Of Engagements

Mary Lou W. Biggs, Glen Taylor Young, the efficient head of Fordham's English department, and her fiancé, Robert A. Taylor, were married in a beautiful ceremony at the Church of St. Mary Magdalene. The couple were married by Rev. James O. Smith, pastor of the church.

The wedding, which had been planned for several months, was held at the church on Tuesday evening. The ceremony was attended by friends and relatives from all over the country.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor will reside in New York City, where Mr. Taylor is a professor of English at Fordham University. They plan to move to Los Angeles after the wedding.

Mr. Biggs is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Biggs, of Detroit, Michigan. She is a graduate of Wellesley College and has been teaching English at Fordham University since 1938. Mr. Taylor is a graduate of Harvard University and has been teaching English at Fordham University since 1940.
Vandal Boxers To Meet Southwestern Louisiana

The Idaho Vandal basketball team, preparing to defend their championship title at the upcoming NCAA basketball tournament, has been practicing hard during the spring season. Coaches, understanding the demands of the upcoming match, have attempted to maintain a balance between physical training and academic pursuits for the athletes. The team, composed of some Idaho freshmen and others, has continued to work towards improvement, aiming to secure their place in the national tournament.

Volleyballers Vie For Lead

With Thanksgiving games, the temporadaless volleyball league has become more intense, with teams moving into full swing with a focus on securing the top position. Unlike recent years when the Idaho volleyball team won in 1960, 1981, and 1986, this year's competition has seen a wide range of teams challenging the top spots. The Idaho volleyballers, with a win over University, are currently leading the league. It is expected that the upcoming matches will be highly competitive, with the potential for changes in the league standings.

Recent Graduates Offered Positions
