students" in "in other words, that their registration was the only aspect of their time spent there which was satisfactorily explained to them.

In the first week of the semester, the Argonaut staff had the opportunity to interview many freshmen, and it is clear that many of them were not satisfied with the procedures or the people who handled their concerns.

Homecoming "Mens, Disclose Added Plans"

Several more hints in preparation for Homecoming are being given by the members of the Student Government Association, who are working closely with the Homecoming committee to ensure a successful event.

Songster Tryouts

Tickets for" Varsity" will be held tonight and Wednesday at 10:00 p.m. in the Student Union. Districts are being announced to all interested students.

Concert Programs

M.S.C. proves that the "h镓e" is the place to be this weekend for musical entertainment. The first program, held on Friday night, features the university's own choir and orchestra. The second program, held on Saturday night, features the university's own band and choir. Both programs are free and open to the public.

Auditions Planned For Concert Band

The University of Idaho Concert Band is currently searching for new members. Interested students are encouraged to attend the auditions, which will be held on Monday at 7:00 p.m. in the music department's practice rooms.

Sensational Oregon Escapade May Be Coastal Fare

Two weeks ago an anonymous voice came over the phone to say, "I am one of the story's characters." This was the beginning of a new chapter in the story of the Argonaut's "sensational Oregon escapade."

In an effort to keep the story fresh, the Argonaut decided to let the voice be heard.

Despite the uncertainty of the story's outcome, the Argonaut continues to follow the "sensational Oregon escapade."

Argus Staff

The Argonaut staff will continue to work on the "sensational Oregon escapade," and the story will be updated as new information becomes available.

Library Hours

The Library hours for regular hours, beginning September 19, 1969, are as follows:

Monday through Thursday: 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.
Friday: 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.
Saturday: 1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m.
Sunday: Closed

Beginning October 3, the Library has extended its hours to include Sunday hours: 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. The library will be closed on Saturday.

For the convenience of students, the Library has extended its hours during the fall semester to include Sunday.

The extension of library hours will allow students to have additional time to study and complete assignments.

The Library is located on the campus of the University of Idaho, in the center of campus, with easy access for all students.

The Library is open during regular hours and extended hours. Students are encouraged to take advantage of these extended hours when needed.

The Library has a wide variety of resources available, including books, journals, and online resources.

The Library is committed to providing a comfortable and supportive environment for all students.

First Things First

There were, it seemed, several things to be learned, as explained, from the perusal of sketchbooks. Among other details, the student was informed:
1. The monkey you have in your picture is a Baboon, not a macaque.
2. Herpetosaurus is a term for the first day of the year.
3. The t-rex had a lower jaw that was about the size of your head.
4. In 1853, the London School of Economics was founded.
5. The t-rex was about the size of a small car.

of Economics was founded.

Can You Do It?

It's easy to believe that you have a mind of your own, that you're capable of thinking for yourself. But the truth is, the mind is a very complex organ, and even the simplest tasks can be daunting. When it comes to questions about the mind and consciousness, it's important to remember that we are still learning about the complexities of the brain.

Mission ...

To Moscow...

We're not sure how many miles it is from here, but we're planning to drive to Moscow. The journey will be about 10 hours, and we'll be stopping along the way for meals and rest. We're looking forward to exploring the city and experiencing its culture.

... a color that leads to distinction, in this season's shoes

It's a color for men, this sickly tone borrowed from North Africa. It has something of the depth and mystery of with men who seek " utility" in dress . . . Coin in and more than regarded for comfortable shoes.

Summer Weddings Unite Seventeen More Couples

Seventeen weddings of campuses this summer have been added to those listed in Figure 11. From the ages of 18 to 20, the average age of the bride and groom is 20 years old.

Among the most recent was that of Janeth Clark and Warden Young, which was held on May 3. The couple met during the Fall section of Sociology, a subject of mutual interest.

The couple will make their home in Denver and will continue in school as well.

Freeze in time, say, too much for the horse that has been served as the Stevens hand san- ced to be in the opening game of the Vandal Gridder schedule last Saturday at Portland.

In the opening minutes of the game, Warden, stationed at the left guard, was pummeled by the Oregon State front line and was down quickly. Once up, the Oregon guards went for Warden and the ball was recovered by the Beavers at the 15 yard line.

In the second half, the Beavers worked on the Vandal Gridder quickly and broke through the line for a touchdown early in the second half.

G. A. U. 17, Portland 0

The 17 points scored by the Beavers were the result of only two touchdowns. The first came in the first quarter when the Beavers scored on a 50 yard run by T. T. A. S. Smith. The second came in the third quarter when the Beavers scored on a 6 yard run by A. J. B. L. Smith.

Oregon State University's victory over the Vandal Gridder was the result of a well organized and well coached team. The Beavers were the better team on both offense and defense. The Vandal Gridder was no match for the Beavers in this game.

All Homecoming Positions

The Vandal Gridder was determined to be the Vandal Gridder last Tuesday when the team announced that 100 positions would be offered to the team.
