AVC Honors Luncheon

Dr. Hutchinson

While the American Legion continued nationally its attack on Dr. Robert B. Hutchinson for his position as superintendent, the noted educator last week was presented with the Award for Achievement annually by the American Veteran Command and told the AVC his discouragement was the result of a decision by the committee.

Top honors went to Dr. Robert B. Hutchinson of the University of Idaho, former basketball coach and leader of the University basketball team.

Regent Dedications Perusal French

Referred to the late Dean Paul French as the "University of Idaho Men's Group," Benito Quintero, President, New Mexico University, gathered at the dedication service held at the University of California State University at the University of Idaho State University.

The new dedications, including French, will be given in honor of those who served during the University of Idaho and the University of Southern California State University.

Homecomers Defy Rainfall

One of the largest Homecoming celebrations that have been held in the history of the University of Idaho was held on Friday, October 13, 1956. Adverse weather conditions hardly deterred the 4,800 students and 8,000 spectators who attended the Homecoming activities, according to the police department.

The parade, which started at 6:30 p.m., was held in the rain, with the Homecoming Committee and other organizations participating in the parade, according to the police department.

Borah Foundation Appointment Told

The Borah Foundation recently announced the appointment of Charles Ochlock as director of the Borah Oratory of War for Peace. The appointment follows the announcement of the retirement of the late Dr. C. L. Martin, former president of the University of Idaho, and the resignation of Dr. L. J. Johnson, former president of the University of Washington.

In search of scholarships, Borah Foundation officials decided to appoint Mr. Ochlock as director of the Borah Oratory of War for Peace. The appointment is expected to provide financial assistance for students pursuing higher education.
