Registration Is Headache For Staff Too

By Jim Golden

With a growing enrollment and an increasing number of students, the registration office is starting to feel the strain. As a result, the registration process is becoming more complex and time-consuming.

For the staff of eight who work in the office, the job of collecting, sorting and inputting data is becoming increasingly difficult. As the number of students grows, the office must keep up with the demand.

The process of registration is a complex one, involving several steps. First, students must register in person or by mail. Once the registration form is completed, it is sent to the registrar's office where it is reviewed. If the form is complete, it is then forwarded to the counselor's office where it is verified.

In addition to the paperwork, there is also a financial aspect to registration. Students must pay tuition and fees, which are then processed by the business office.

The process is time-consuming and requires a great deal of attention to detail. The staff at the registration office is working carefully to ensure that all students are properly registered and that their information is accurate.
