Idaho's six men rodeo team hopes to drop Cal Poly from the top spot in the West this weekend. The University of Oregon will also be competing in the annual intercollegiate rodeo sponsored by the University. Nine teams will compete tomorrow and Sunday at the University of Washington, Seattle. Idaho's team includes from left, ret to right—Dick McCarty, Jim Mackay and Red Lind. Rear row, left to right—Gerald Adams, Bob Tümpen and C. J. McClurk.

Cindermenn Challenge ND Champion Oregon

Idaho tracksters will challenge the University of Oregon's long time Northern Division track supremacy tonight when they hit the clippers against these ND defending champions. Vandal miller Warren Johnson looks good to take a first spot in the event, as the track's great two milers, Bill Dillingham and Jim Bailey, will be in Los Angeles tomorrow meeting Australia's Alan Jones. All three will be attempting to run in a four minute mile or under.

Southeastern Oregon will also be sending athletes to the meet. Merle Prudig, who is capable of a 2:09 1/2, Paul's running mate, Dennis McClure and Donnie Geoghan, made up the Sending band that Oregon has had in the field for many years.

The spread will have five of the schools, against Eastern Oregon, Oregon State, Oregon Tech, Willamette and Western Oregon, at Corvallis tonight. Oregon Tech will send their men's team only.
