Welcome to the Idaho campus. As we look forward to another football season, you may notice something different on our campus. In addition to the usual game-day traditions, you will see a new face in the stands: the Idaho Student Body President. This year, the Student Body President is a student who is passionate about making our campus an even better place to be. We are excited to have their leadership on our team and we hope you will join us in welcoming this new addition to our football season.

At 1 p.m., the Idaho Student Body President will be introduced to the crowd during the game. This is an exciting opportunity for students to show their support and cheer on their fellow students. We encourage all students to attend and make this a memorable day for everyone.

Thank you for your support of our football team. We look forward to seeing you at the game!
A Peek Behind The Scenes At Idaho's Pre-Homecoming Activities

One of the Reasons

Queen And Princesses

Music Makers At Kick-off Dance

Traditional Contest

Every year around the time or the second field contest between WSU and Idaho another contest occurs, but one that is also linked to the games. The student body president and the newspaper editor of the visiting school meet with the same officials to the home school, according to tradition. This year's opposing quartet are Dick Egan, President, editor; Bert Johnson, Assistant editor; Dore Elder, ASB, President and Hyde Jacobs, ASM, person. Who will win?

Homecoming Festivities Have Been Here A Long Time

The First Palouse Civil War Was A Cross Between Football And Rugby

By Herb Johnson

The "civil war of the Palouse" was the first football contest between two rival communities. The second game was played in 1895, and the outcome was decided by a field goal. Since then, the series has been played annually, with the home team winning a total of 23 games, the visiting team winning 19, and four games ending in ties.

Challenge Accepted

L. C. Barrington, football editor, of The Moscow News, called Mississippi State's McFarland, the best back en face the West Coast, and challenged the Idaho back to a contest. The quest was accepted, and the Idaho back was to be in the game.

Every Year's Homecoming Is The "Best And Biggest"

By Sheila Jameson

Everything from the bluest sky to the wisest pillars of fire have been featured in Homecoming events over the years. There were also many memorable moments including a homecoming that never happened. The Idaho State University Homecoming, which took place in 1946, was the biggest event in the history of the university.

House Decorations Date Back To Bethas "Betsema" In 1929

Highlights of 1931's Homecoming activities will be the colorful floats created by all campus fraternities. Homecoming originated in 1920, the year that the University of Idaho in Moscow, Idaho, was incorporated.

Homecoming Festivities Take Over As Pledge Dances Leave Limelight

"Marching Band," the Sights of the Gammas Phil days are labeled as one of the most exciting days of the year, with the bands and floats...balloons, and confetti.

The annual event is The Little Red Schoolhouse, held Thursday evening with events in an atmosphere of a first-class celebration.

Social life has calmed down this homecoming weekend and has been the subject in support of Lambda's annual Homecoming Dance.

Friday Night was highlighted by the announcement of Miss Dana Jones's engagement to Troy Williams of San Antonio, and it was a Friday night gathering.

The other events kick off with the opening of the third annual edition of the "Homecoming Special," the annual publication.

The event was held in the second floor of the Llano High School, with a guest list that included guest speakers, faculty, and students from the area.

The first floor was open to the public, with a band playing in the background.

Wanda's List

Here are some things to watch for during the weekend:

1. The annual Homecoming Parade, which will feature floats and marching bands.
2. The Homecoming Dance, which will be held at the Llano High School.
3. The Homecoming Ball, which will be held at the Llano High School.
4. The Homecoming Game, which will be held at the Llano High School.

In order to purchase tickets for any of these events, please contact the Llano High School office at 555-1234.

OVERLOOKED

Six seniors see final action tomorrow as football squad will parade onto the turf of the Vandals' Neale Stadium Saturday afternoon for their last bad game on the home field. Harry Douglas, Louis Blome, Glen Christian, Ken Lamore, Ron Glinz, and Evan Kieley make up the senior unit that will be facing a home crowd for the last time when they square off with the Washington State Cougars in their annual homecoming game.

These six, now in their senior season and with the seniority that brings, will be the last to wear the green and yellow uniforms of the Vandals. They will be the last to walk onto the field for the pre-game ceremonies. They will be the last to feel the excitement of victorious games and the disappointment of defeat.
