Coed Tumblers Perform
At Gymnast Show Tonight

Dramatic tossing, clever acrobatics and modern style will be the featured attractions of the second annual gymnastic show which will be presented in the gymnasium tonight at 7:30 by the Idaho gymnasts.

The evening program will feature the riders from the University of Illinois in a spectacular exhibition of the "flying horse" and "ten thousand," by an amazing team of 10 riders. The riders will be accompanied by the band and a special dance feature will conclude the evening performance.

As for the evening's main event, the "flying horse" act, the riders will begin by tossing a rider on a bungee cord. The rider will be thrown into the air and will perform several acrobatic moves before being caught by his teammates.

The evening will also feature a variety of other acrobatic acts, including the "ten thousand," in which a rider will be tossed into the air and held by 10 riders at the same time. The riders will perform several moves before being caught by their teammates.

The final act of the evening will feature a dance performance by the riders, accompanied by the university band. The show will conclude with a spectacular display of fireworks.
