FINAL EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

First Semester - 1957-58

(Two-and-one-half hour examinations—one examination period each day)

Regular class rooms will be used for the examinations unless special arrangements are made by the Registrar's Office. Examinations in courses comprised of lecture and laboratory periods may be in most instances scheduled according to the sequence of either. Announcements of examinations will be posted by the Registrar's Office for "arranged" examinations in order to avoid conflicts. Instructors will announce to their class rooms to be used for all semester classes having final examinations.

A Reason For Boordom:

"Boor is the most common and least offensive word that can be applied to dark-haired women. A word that is too closely associated with black female bodies. The word is used to describe their behavior as rude, disrespectful, and uncouth. It is a term that is often used to dehumanize and generalize groups of women, and it is a form of microaggression that contributes to systemic racism and sexism. It is important to recognize that the term 'boor' is a harmful and derogatory word that should not be used.

As I look around my city, I see women who are working hard, fighting for their rights, and making a difference. These are the women who are the true boors of our society. They are the ones who are pushing boundaries, breaking down barriers, and creating a more just and equitable world.

I challenge you to think about the way you use language, and to consider the impact that your words have on others. Let us work towards creating a more inclusive and respectful society, where all voices are heard and valued.

Let us stand together and reject the harmful and offensive terms that are used to generalize and dehumanize groups of people. Let us use language that is respectful and compassionate, and that promotes understanding and empathy.

Let us create a world where all voices are heard, and all individuals are valued for who they are.
Semester Rush Registration
Deadline Lifted For Men

A college requiring Idaho men to register for second semester rush and attended until registration, Leo Scott, IPC rush chairman, announced today.

"Originally, interested individuals had been asked to sign up for rush on Friday in advance of the registration week," he said. "However, due to the large number of interested students, we have decided to limit the number of men attending rush to those who have previously registered."
Despite a flu epidemic, Idaho students still experienced a colorful and eventful first semester at the University. A representative group made the trip across the border to witness the annual "Battle of the Palouse" (top left) and refrain from fifth quarter activities. After several warnings from various groups, the traditional scuffle was at last quelled. Queen Marilyn Crane (top center) reigned over the annual Homecoming activities. The Kappa court and a court of four princesses added a touch of sunshine to the rather dismal, rain-drenched day.

A new addition to the family of living groups was McConnel (top left). Early in the school year frosh were run through the Campus Carnival madhouse (upper left). Junior Senator Frank Church (upper right) drew a capacity crowd to the S.U.'s Central Ballroom despite a controversy that his political philosophy might influence college minds. A stiltish subject was Dad's Day beard growing (upper right). Chevette Kerns, Alpha Chi, tests Dori Wilton's beard here as "Joe" Vandal looks on.

Now that finals are hovering over the students, the University's new million dollar library (lower right) is finished and open sooner than usual. Shown in the photo (bottom left) are the winning Homecoming float entered in the annual parade in downtown Moscow. Idaho's freshman (below) drained $1,000 scholarships from Moscow donors in the United Fund march. Dick Kerbs (right) accepts the Farmhouse charter from national fraternity president C. E. Middleton. The group became the 15th fraternity to join the national Greek fold here.
KEPT IDAHO'S FIRST SEMESTER LIVELY

Queens, WSC Add Spice

Idaho's football Vandals gave the Washington State Cougars a real scare (top left) before losing 21-13. The gridiron closed out the season with a highly respectable 4-1-1 record. Traditionally, students from the losing school pay respects to the victors and about 100 Idaho students (top center) did just that, walking the eight miles between Moscow and Pullman. Vandal cage captain Gary Simmons (top right) put on an early bid for season superstar leading the Idaho Five to an 8-2 pre-conference record and hitting a fantastic 38 points against USC.

Idaho gridiron retained the Little Brown Stein (upper left), thrilling 4,500 fans with a decisive 31-13 win over Montana. Idaho's finest cross-country team in history (upper right) surprised the Pacific Coast Conference by winning the PCC team championship in that sport.

"It's a woman's world" could well be the theme for the lower portion of this page. Idaho coeds have definitely established a position for themselves in the University—both socially and academically. Chub Anderson (lower left), sophomore class president, is bubbling over with enthusiasm as he crowns Sharon McChesney, Alpha Phi, Holly Queen during the yearly Yuletide event. Sigma Chi selected Balbina Barracuda (left) Gamma Phi as their Fraternity Sweetheart after she proved herself in the group's Derby Day competition.

CAGERS CLOBBER COUGARS, 85-67, 67-58

Backboard Power, Persistent Attack Are Important Factors In Twin Wins

Hulah pushed the power button onto the scoreboard as Washington State 65-61 and 67-58, C. S. R. M. and the Cougars.

The first 12 minutes of the game was a runaway for the state as they led 19-4 in the first 8 minutes. The Cougars quickly shot their way to the lead and took a 30-15 lead into the locker room.

The second half was a much closer game as the Cougars took a 53-49 lead into the locker room.
