"KATE" SECOND SELL OUT TONIGHT

$1000 Production Sold-out
For Two Remaining Shows

Opening night of the musical comedy, "Kiss Me, Kate," was successful in the Performing Arts Building on Dodge Hall. The production will be repeated March 15 and 16. A limited number of tickets will be available for the final two nights of the show.

"Kiss Me, Kate" is a musical about a theatre company, its leading man, and his wife, both of whom are actors. Their marriage is on the verge of separation.

"Better Committee Selection Attempt For Campus Chest"

A more democratic way to select Campus Chest members will be tried this year, according to Campus Chest Director Robert L. Meader. As a result, the Campus Chest executive committee and the junior class president will select the members, and not the senior class president alone.

"Six Senior Earn Pilot Wings Under AFROTC Program"

Six senior cadets will earn their wings under the Air Force ROTC training program. The candidates are: Charles B. Michener, Roy Shanks, Jr., John J. Brown, Robert M. Brown, John W. Bailey, and James R. Brown.

"Summer Program" Deadline is March 15

Summer programs for the University of Iowa are open. The deadline for application is March 15. The programs include business and management, education, engineering, and liberal arts.

"Irish F Crosh Week Theme Set As 'Shamrock Lane'"

By Frank Stackhouse

"Shamrock Lane" was selected recently as the theme for the Irish F Crosh Week activities. The theme, "Tape-decade," is based on the idea of celebrating the United States' bicentennial.

"Final Exam Board Parking Committee Meet Scheduled"

Final report of the Exam Board Parking Committee will be presented to the Board Tuesday night, May 15. The meeting will be held in the Performing Arts Building, room 250.

"KATE" was opened in December 1964, and has been a popular attraction in the Performing Arts Building. The production will be repeated March 15 and 16.

"Better Committee Selection Attempt for Campus Chest"

A more democratic way to select Campus Chest members will be tried this year, according to Campus Chest Director Robert L. Meader. As a result, the Campus Chest executive committee and the junior class president will select the members, and not the senior class president alone.

"Six Senior Earn Pilot Wings Under AFROTC Program"

Six senior cadets will earn their wings under the Air Force ROTC training program. The candidates are: Charles B. Michener, Roy Shanks, Jr., John J. Brown, Robert M. Brown, John W. Bailey, and James R. Brown.

"Summer Program" Deadline is March 15

Summer programs for the University of Iowa are open. The deadline for application is March 15. The programs include business and management, education, engineering, and liberal arts.

"Irish F Crosh Week Theme Set As 'Shamrock Lane'"

By Frank Stackhouse

"Shamrock Lane" was selected recently as the theme for the Irish F Crosh Week activities. The theme, "Tape-decade," is based on the idea of celebrating the United States' bicentennial.

"Final Exam Board Parking Committee Meet Scheduled"

Final report of the Exam Board Parking Committee will be presented to the Board Tuesday night, May 15. The meeting will be held in the Performing Arts Building, room 250.
Egghed-Want-All-Kinds

The call has gone out for the Egghed. The Soviet spirit and mystique, and the socialist way of life have come to see the world for what it is. An egg is a symbol of the philosophy behind the concept. We aren't even opposed to bombs, pro-

We think we need all kinds of eggheads to make the world a better place.

We need them because we need people who can work together and produc-

We need them to make our society a place where everyone can be equal and straight up to the air.

We aren't even opposed to bombs, pro-

We think we need all kinds of eggheads to make the world a better place.

The University cannot con-

We think we need all kinds of eggheads to make the world a better place.

The University cannot con-

We think we need all kinds of eggheads to make the world a better place.

We need them to make our society a place where everyone can be equal and straight up to the air.
Further AWS Nominations Made, Constitution Studied

Nominations for Associated Women Students and the New Kappa meeting and election of the group's constitution highlighted the Wednesday meeting. The evening's attendance was lower than expected, as many AWS members were engaged in other activities on the campus. Lida M. Govan, President, introduced the nominations, which were voted on by the group. The new Kappa constitution was discussed and adopted by the group.

Roy Tels Cosmos Of Afghanistan Politics, Economics

Highlights of two years in Afghanistan will be reviewed by Roy Tels, who will speak at the next meeting of the Cosmos Club. The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, October 10, in the Cosmos Club meeting room. Mr. Tels will discuss his experiences in Afghanistan and the current political and economic situation in the country.

Delta GAMMA Ankles Were No More as Rumors Swirled

Sisters of the Delta Gamma chapter of the university, who had been the targets of rumors of ankles, were relieved to hear that the rumors were false. The chapter has been in existence for over 100 years and is one of the oldest sororities on the campus.

BELLA GAMMA Toasts to Her Birthday as the Mystery guest

The Bella Gamma chapter of the university held a surprise birthday celebration for one of its members. The chapter members traveled to the member's home to surprise her with gifts and cards. The event was a huge success and was enjoyed by all.

SIGMA GAMMA House Changes

The Sigma Gamma house went through some changes this week. Two members of the house were given scholarships, and one member was given a promotion in her field. The house is looking forward to the upcoming semester and all that it has in store.

Kappa SIGMA Head's Day

The Kappa Sigma head's day was held this week. Members of the chapter met to discuss chapter business and plan for the upcoming semester. The meeting was a success, and the chapter is looking forward to the upcoming events.

ROTC Choir Chops New Members

Six new members of the ROTC choir were announced today by Colonel Whitfield, director. The group, organized last semester, now includes members from Army, Navy, and Marine ROTC chapters. Colonel Whitfield, a graduate student in music, established the group to provide an outlet for ROTC students to express their love for music. The group will participate in several upcoming events, including the annual ROTC concert and the ROTC alumni reunion.

Seamloom Leads Westminster Talk, Panel On Summer Work

The Seamloom group led the Westminster talk, entitled "The Latest in Seamloom," which was held on Wednesday evening. The talk was well-received by the attendees, who praised the group for their informative and engaging presentation. The panel on summer work was also a success, with members of the group discussing their experiences and offering advice to those interested in summer work.

New KUO Staff Members Named

The new KUO staff members were announced today by President O'Donnell. The new staff members will be responsible for developing and implementing new initiatives to improve the university's operations. The new staff members will work closely with the administration to ensure the success of these initiatives.

Delta GAMMA Graduates with Honors

Delta GAMMA was proud to announce the graduation of its latest members. The members have worked hard to achieve this accomplishment and are a credit to the chapter. The chapter congratulates its new graduates and wishes them all the best in their future endeavors.
Religious Speakers Views Vary On World, Political Problems
Religious Education Week, following its theme of "Man and His Conditions," took a look at the role of religion in world affairs Tuesday.

The week was opened by the Rev. Elwood S. Eddleman, head of the Religion Education Week, speaking of the necessity of national unity among American religious groups.

Student-Politics
Religion must stay out of politics if it is to remain a true people's religion. Wise and harmless, but never divine, religion can be used as a means to ends that are not necessarily the ends of religion. Students and scholars can use religion to advance their careers and their causes, but they must do so with care.

Campus Community
The former president and university president of the University of Idaho has the responsibility for guiding the entire university, not just the student body. He must also make sure that the university community is one in which all students and faculty feel comfortable and valued.

Two proposals were cited as possible solutions to the growing rift between religion and education. The first was to separate religion from education, allowing each to flourish independently. The second was to integrate religion into education, using religious principles to guide the curriculum. Both proposals were met with resistance from those who believe in separate spheres of influence.

"It is impossible on this campus to separate adequate education and true alignment along with adequate knowledge of student opinions," the president said.

Dr. Frank Black and Dr. Robert F. Underhill in a Religious Education Seminar Tuesday evening.

Dr. Black is the president of the Idaho State University and Dr. Underhill is the dean of the College of Education.

"It is not within the scope of this university to be the arbiter of religious belief," Dr. Underhill said. "We cannot teach the students what religion is, but we can teach them how to evaluate religious claims and how to live in a society where religious differences exist."
PCC Third Place At Stake On Last Season Road Trip

An outside chance at third place will provide the incentive for the Vandal hoop squad to make the trip to Stanford and California this weekend.

The Vandal, who now stand at 4-4, will be a tough proposition for both schools. Also tonight and on Thursday night, both games will be at home.

The Idaho coach expects a good crowd for the game at the University of Oregon.

Neural Corner

Bears Are Best Team In PCC; All Star Selection Rough Task

Two things were highly evident after last weekend's Vandal games in the PCC and the PCC all star selections:

- The Vandal basketball team is the best team in the Pac-10.
- The Vandal basketball team is the worst team in the Pac-10.

If you go through the list, you can see how it happened. It has been noted out of context and out of sequence.

We did witness the Calhoun-Berkeley team in the first round of the PCC, where we were told that the Vandal would win the game by 10 points, it's only because we were watching the PCC conference.