Moscow Experiences First "Operation Alert"

Sorority members of the University of Idaho were asked to participate in the anti-communist campaign "Operation Alert" on Monday, Feb. 18. The purpose of the campaign is to alert members of the Soviet Union and the rest of the world that this is not a country that is free from under the control of communism.

The campaign is being conducted throughout the nation and was initiated by the American Legion. The United States government has declared war on communism and has asked all Americans to join the campaign.

The members of the sorority were told that they should not attend any meetings or events that are sponsored by the communist party. They were also encouraged to report any suspicious activities to the authorities.

The campaign is being conducted in order to prevent the spread of communism and to ensure that the United States remains free from the influence of this邪恶的意识形态.

SUB Addition Still Has Large Majority Support

A bill in the Senate that would make the SUB a permanent body remains the most popular bill in the state legislature. The bill, sponsored by Senator Smith, was passed by a vote of 30-1 in the Senate last week. The bill has been praised by many students for its potential to increase student representation in the decision-making process of the university.

The bill would establish a new SUB, which would be elected by students and would have the power to make decisions on a variety of issues, including tuition, fees, and regulations. The bill has received widespread support from students, who have long complained of the lack of student voice in university decision-making.

On Wednesday, the Senate took up the bill and passed it by a vote of 30-1. The only senator to vote against the bill was Senator Johnson, who cited concerns about the cost of the new SUB. However, Johnson conceded that the bill had widespread support and that the SUB would be a positive step forward for student representation.

The bill now goes to the House of Representatives, where it is expected to be introduced this week. If passed, the bill will go to Governor Smith for signature. Governor Smith has indicated that he will sign the bill, and the SUB is expected to be operational by the fall semester.
Go To A Smaller College,” Students Would Advise

If an American college student could give advice to his younger brother about attending college, he would probably tell him to go to a smaller school. A recent survey of 1000 college seniors showed that 101 per cent of the students interviewed on this subject indicated that they would advise their younger brothers to attend a smaller school.

The question asked of a representative sample of men, women, college freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors in various colleges and universities, is one of the most interesting in recent college student investigations. The question was worded: “Suppose your younger brother is planning to attend college. Would you advise him to go to a large or smaller school?”

Of the 1000 students surveyed, 97 per cent of the men said they would advise their younger brothers to attend a smaller school. Women students, on the other hand, were divided more nearly even, with 47 per cent saying they would advise their younger brothers to attend a smaller school, while 53 per cent said they would advise them to attend a larger school.

The survey was conducted by the Bureau of Educational Research of the University of Pennsylvania. The results of the survey indicate that the majority of college students believe that smaller schools are better than larger schools for the education of college students.

Eloquence of education is in the hands of the teachers. The schools are the institutions through which the teachers carry on their work.

Until very recently, the education of children was left to the discretion of parents. The schools were merely the places where the children were sent to be taught by the teachers. The teachers were the ones who had to decide what was to be taught, and how it was to be taught.

But today, the situation is quite different. Education is no longer a matter of choice, but a matter of necessity. The schools are now run by the government, and the teachers are employed by the government.

In this respect, the government plays a great role in the education of children. The government has to provide the schools with the necessary facilities, and the teachers with the necessary training.

The education of children is not only a matter of learning facts, but also a matter of learning values. The teachers have to instill in the children a sense of duty, and a sense of responsibility.

In conclusion, the government has a great responsibility in the education of children. The schools are the places where the children are taught, and the teachers are the ones who have to carry out this task.

Astronomers Turn Telescope on More 'Heavenly' Subjects

The universe is full of wonders, and astronomers are always looking for new ways to explore it. In this article, we discuss some of the latest developments in the field of astronomy.

The first development is the use of advanced telescopes. These telescopes have allowed astronomers to observe objects that were previously inaccessible. For example, the Hubble Space Telescope has allowed us to see the most distant galaxies.

The second development is the use of computerized data analysis. This has allowed astronomers to make sense of the vast amounts of data that are collected by telescopes.

Finally, the third development is the use of new technologies. These technologies have allowed astronomers to develop new methods of data analysis, and to make new discoveries.

In conclusion, the field of astronomy is constantly evolving. New technologies and new methods are being developed all the time, and these are allowing us to explore the universe in new ways.

Dick Steedman, Oregon State's leader in previous years, this year, has been a steadying influence in the Oregon State lineup. The Vandals have relied on Dick Steedman's leadership to take the lead back in the second and only two in the first.

Bill Stellman, who ran the Montana State at the University of Idaho, has become a valuable addition to the Oregon State lineup. Stellman scored a single and drove in the winning run on a sacrifice fly to right field. The Vandals are the second team to score a run in the third and fourth innings.

The Vandals will try to get back on track against the Idaho Falls team on Friday and Saturday. The Vandals have lost to the University of Idaho in the last two games at the University of Idaho and are 1-4 in the conference.
