Hague To Meet Robert D. Bowers, Ferris President

Hague will meet Robert D. Bowers, Ferris President, today in the Union. Hague is expected to meet with Bowers after he arrives in the city.

Bowers is expected to visit the university to discuss various issues, including the future of the university and its academic programs. Hague is a member of the university's board of trustees and is a strong advocate for the university's research and academic programs.

The meeting is expected to be held in the Union, which is located in the heart of the university campus. Hague is expected to discuss the university's current status, including its enrollment, budget, and future plans.

Bowers is expected to discuss the university's recent achievements, including the establishment of new academic programs and the expansion of the university's research facilities. He is also expected to discuss the university's ongoing efforts to improve the student experience, including the construction of new dormitories and the expansion of the university's athletics facilities.

The meeting is expected to be held in a private room in the Union, and the results of the meeting will be announced later.

Goulding Names Autobiographies of...

Goulding has named six new autobiographies for the university's collection. The books will be added to the university's library and will be available for students and faculty to read.

The six books are expected to cover a wide range of topics, including history, politics, and biography.

The books are expected to be added to the university's library in the coming weeks and will be available for students and faculty to read.
Behind the Bamboo Curtain

The door opened and the flashlights were on. Chinese customs official entered the room. He searched the room and then stepped away. The room was empty except for two chairs and a table. There was a middle-aged Chinese man sitting alone on one of the chairs. He was wearing a black suit and had a serious expression on his face. He was a seaman from the People's Republic of China.

"Hello, there is no one here," the official said. "This is the Bamboo Curtain."

"Yes, let's get on board."

VANDALS TAKE FIRST LOSS, FOULS MAR SECOND GAME

The Idaho Vandals lost their first game of the 1959-60 season to the University of California, Santa Barbara, 72-71, with a split against the Colorado State Rams.

The loss was not unexpected, coach Harlan Dodge remarked, as the Vandals outplayed the Rams in the early stages of the game. However, the Rams' defense proved to be too strong, as they held the Vandals to just 62 points.

In the second game, the Vandals faced the Colorado State Rams, who had just beaten the Vandals in the season opener. Despite their best efforts, the Vandals were unable to come back and lose the game, 77-71.

The Vandals will look to regroup for their next game against the Oregon State Beavers, who are currently in third place in the conference.
