Accidents Mar Holiday Season

A head-on auto crash on the Lewiston grade New York's only major highway has killed a woman and injured three others. This is the second in a series of recent accidents that have left several people dead or injured in a matter of days.

At 7:30 p.m. on Dec. 21, a 19-year-old woman was killed when her car collided head-on with a 19-year-old man's car on the Lewiston grade. The accident occurred in the northbound lanes of the grade, which runs from Lewiston to Saratoga Springs.

The man driving the other car was critically injured and was taken to the hospital. The woman was pronounced dead on the scene.

The accident is being investigated by the New York State Police. No further information is available at this time.

We extend our condolences to the family and friends of the victim.

Correction:

Due to an error in our calculations, the date of the accident was incorrectly stated. The correct date is Dec. 21, not Dec. 22, as previously reported.

Steel Received For Inflammatory Money

The Associated Women Students' union has received a $1,000 donation from the Idaho Student Council to cover the cost of the steel for the inflatable money they plan to use for their upcoming campaign.

The money was donated by the University of Idaho Student Council, which is made up of representatives from each college and university in the state.

The inflatable money, which will be used to promote various causes, will be unveiled at the union's annual meeting on June 8.

Idaho Graduate Dhillon Tells Of New College in India: School Faces Numerous Problems

A graduate of the University of Idaho named Dhillon has recently returned from India, where he is establishing a new college in the country.

Dhillon, a 23-year-old student from Boise, Idaho, tells The Idaho Argonaut that the college will be called the University of Idaho College of India.

Dhillon says he has been working with local officials to establish the college, which will offer undergraduate and graduate programs in engineering, agriculture, and business.

The college will also offer a program in Indian studies, with courses in history, literature, and culture.

Dhillon says he plans to open the college in September, and he expects it to have an initial enrollment of 50 students.

1960 Predicted As Big Year for WSU Building Projects

The 1960 school year will be a busy one for the Washington State University board of regents, as they plan to begin construction on a number of new buildings.

The most significant project will be a new engineering building, which is expected to cost $10 million and will house the university's engineering programs.

In addition, the board plans to construct a new library, a new dormitory, and a new science building.
