‘60 Talent Show
Awards Given
By NEIL LEITNER
A full three-hour session that sometimes moved, sometimes never, just about elec-trifyingly, went on Saturday night.
Right on key for the ‘60 Talent Show, which probably gave a secretive and ordered hint for what was to come, was the ‘60 Talent SHOWCast.

Former Idaho Dean of Men, Possessor Of Unique Talent

Herbert Lattig was a mild man with strong ideals. Under the leadership of the Board of Trustees, he was the first Dean of Men from 1942 to 1963, during the formative period of the University looking for their unique identity. After leaving the University, he went on to become a successful attorney.

On the grounds of what was then the Idaho State College, there stood a quietly decorated cage, built by the students. It was Lattig's idea to build a structure to house the birds.

With a wire from the Antelope, Dean around his hectic schedule, he often did not have the time to attend to the birds. But he was always ready to help.

The impressive Assistant Dean went on to become a successful politician, first in state and later in the nation. Lattig, like all of us, was a bird lover.

Lattig's legacy still lives on, with the birds now living in a larger, more permanent cage.

Happy drone, Dean! Keep up the good work!

Babes D. Michaelis, whom us depicted in the center of the last week's issue, was a former employee of the Ford Motor Company and a member of the Westinghouse Electric Corporation. She was also a member of the Women's Auxiliary of the National Library. She died on Thursday, April 3, at the age of 91.

Woods Beckon To 750 Grads, Dean Relates

A new formal service five year plan was unveiled at the 1960-1961 season's opening on Monday, April 2, by Dean R. E. Wallace, with special emphasis on the importance of developing the national library.

If approved, will be able to cope with the problem of the library's financial needs, according to Dean Walla. The plan includes measures to increase the library's income from various sources, including contributions from grateful students and alumni.

Medical Library

The Library's Medical Library, which is responsible for the majority of the library's operations, is facing a significant budget shortfall. According to Dean Walla, the library's current budget is insufficient to meet the needs of the library and the students who rely on it.
