First Day Rolls Shy Of Record

By LEE THOMPSON

Argonaut Managing Editor

The number of registered students has not hit the 1,877 figure that President D. D. Sasser, of the University of Idaho, had hoped to reach by first day. The total number today was 1,863 for freshmen and 1,280 for returning students. The difference of 4 is due to the fact that a number of students did not register before the first day of the academic year.

A Strange Breed

A fresh is a strange breed of animal, a breed that appears on campus approximately yearly for approximately two weeks, then inexplicably changes into a college crush.

The fresh is similar to the period during which a caterpillar becomes a butterfly, and is likely to be long unnoticed.

In its true form, the fresh is not quite like any other living animal. Still befuddled from a rash of registration and buying books, the fresh exists in a bewailed state of half-fledged condition, always a little apprehensive as to what the next day will bring.

There's a feeling of indecision, of being alone in a strange place hanging over the fresh. It's the feeling of being at the top of the social pyramid, and yet not quite there.

The fresh is not like the upper classes of any other college campus. The classes that are made up of the people who are a little too self-conscious, a little too concerned with the other person. They are the people who are always trying to look ahead and see what other people are thinking of them.

But the fresh is not like the lower classes of any college campus. They are the people who are always trying to look back and see what other people are thinking of them. They are the people who are always trying to look ahead and see what other people are thinking of them.

The fresh is a strange breed, a breed that is made up of the people who are a little too self-conscious, a little too concerned with the other person. They are the people who are always trying to look ahead and see what other people are thinking of them. They are the people who are always trying to look back and see what other people are thinking of them.

A Job Well Done

To a newspaperman, there are two kinds of editors, the easy-to-please and the hard-to-please.

Publishers are the easy-to-please kind to pull out, and are usually quite well deserved. This is a short, simple plan on the back page.

But the fresh is more than a plan or a page. The fresh is the plan that is made up of the people who are a little too self-conscious, a little too concerned with the other person. They are the people who are always trying to look ahead and see what other people are thinking of them. They are the people who are always trying to look back and see what other people are thinking of them.

Student Cash Supports Hospital Improvement

Idaho students, many of whom have the vaguest idea of what it costs to operate a hospital where the ambulance calls are needed in the future and the next call will be waiting. Although it's quite remarkable how well the original building stood up to its job, we are now ready to add to the addition," said Fleming.

TARDY Hospital

The new emergency facility will be "the crown jewel in the expansion of the improvements made to the 30,000 square foot hospital.

FINANCED by student fees, the initial equipment will be provided to the new hospital. The student body will be a major contributor to the new hospital. The students will be a major contributor to the new hospital.

SAE Remodels For $30,000

The Beta Chi Alpha Corporation of the Idaho chapter of SAE spent some time last summer in remodeling the old chapter house, which has been used as an office building.

In the remodeling process, the first floor was remodeled to include a new kitchen, dining room, and guest room. The second floor was remodeled to include a new office and guest room. The third floor was remodeled to include a new bathroom and guest room.

All of the remodeling work was done by the students of the Beta Chi Alpha Corporation, with the exception of the new kitchen, which was done by a local contractor.

The total cost of the remodeling project was approximately $30,000. The funds were raised through a combination of student contributions and a grant from the university.

The new chapter house is now used for regular meetings and social functions, as well as for study groups and other activities.
