Question For Coeds: How Does It Add Up?

To me it seems that the majority of the collegiate girls are either incurring expenses or spending a great deal of money which is a result of a complete lack of any little or wise expenditure. This is connected to the very tempting, highly paid "career girls" or whatever women may call it. The problem lies in the fact that a great many of these women, who are so-called "career girls," do not know the proper way to spend their money. One must have a proper budget to avoid such unnecessary outlays.

"Represents education that continues."

George Gallup

A serious weakness of the American educational system is the linking down between what we are taught in school and what we learn after leaving school. The Reader's Digest represents education that continues. It arranges and satisfies keen interest in the vital issues of the day and in varied fields of lasting knowledge.

Lentil is alogin the wide range of subjects in any time—The Reader's Digest is designed for the well-informed individual who cultivates interests far wider than the confines of any particular field.

From the wealth of material that is published each month, the standards the three outstanding editors of our thousand-page weekly want to weed. Each article is considered to present the essentials only, yet preserve the original and flavor of the original.

The Reader's Digest offers a continuing broad education for millions of men and women with short, open minds.

Where's your jingle? By now you think I'm nuts, but I'm not. I make 512 by writing a lucky Strike jingle. Have you ever seen one?

If you have read the above, you have indeed made a new friend. I am, of course, the owner of Dixie Pines, a motel in Old Town, and I am writing to you because you have given me a new lease on life.

I hope you will accept my invitation and visit Dixie Pines sometime this spring. We would be delighted to have you as a guest.

Another step was taken by the Agricultural University board of trustees at its meeting held in the academic building. Provost E. J. Hines, secretary of the trustees, who were in attendance, said that the idea of abolishing fees for loaning musical instruments has been considered and approved.

By board action, the request was made that the fee for any individual music instrument required for class instruction, be paid by the student in $3 a semester. Two years ago, the fee was $1.25 per semester, but in recent years, fees have been raised to $3 a semester.
