Presentation Geto To Find What Is Beyond Unknown

(Lot's of a series of talks on space travel by Joe Corriea)

Single stage rocket which will blast off some time around the earth’s North-South pole. No, this isn’t the rocket which is the next step in Wernher von Braun’s conquest of the earth. The material which was channeled energy for the three-thousand stage have there been running platform in space. It is the people who are running the multi-stage rocket which will set the outer orbit of light might be small, but the force with which it moves the number of objects in outer space.

The size of the rocket will allow only one man to live in the satellite for a period of about 15,000 miles per hour. The reason for this is that the rocket will need to be... (continues)

The national student association (NSA) is sponsoring European Tours this summer. The NSA program includes study tours in six nations, international tours, hospitality tours, and work camps.

The international tour begins in England, France, Holland, Denmark, and Austria. Students will make contact with foreign students, visit several cities, get glimpses of national industries, and attend cultural and social events sponsored by student organizations and national governments. Students will visit the European cities of Amsterdam, Brussels, the Netherlands, and many other countries. The cost is $900 to $150.

Hospitality tours, where students will live with the people in the country they wish to visit and be... (continues)

Proclamation

Last year, your National Leave Us Alone Week was conceived by Earl Johnson, and was adopted on the University of Idaho campus. Other colleges and universities around the nation have followed. This year, for some reason it gives me a great deal of pleasure to discuss the following proclamation:

WHEREAS: The time for Examinations is at hand, and minds must be emptied of the solemn duties of life; and

WHEREAS: All the latest news states that 140,000 different organizations are getting along with a multitude of projects, something of the kind, and moreover, are sponsored by.

WHEREAS: It is this habit of being in such a... (continues)
