Approximately 125 couples attended the dance on Wednesday, December 1, which culminated in the 1973 Idaho state dairy show. The event was hosted by Farm Bureau, the Idaho Dairy Association, and the Idaho College of Education.

Winer of the dance contest was Marty Bell, who received a cash prize of $50. The second place winner was Sue Holt, who received a cash prize of $25. The third place winner was Karen Smith, who received a cash prize of $15.

The Hi-Tau first place, first place, second place, and third place awards were given to the following dairy teams:

First place: Navy Capt. Thomas
Second place: Assistant Professor Lee A. Burnham
Third place: Dairy Science student

In addition to the dairy show, there were also other events, such as a Talent Show and a Rodeo.

Air Force Choir to Start Practice

The Air Force ROTC will hold its first practice session on December 4th. The choir will be led by Captain Thomas. The practice will be held in the college's music building. The choir will be open to all students.

Dairy judging took place in the morning, and the milk judging took place in the afternoon.

On The Nature Of Being Scared

(Perhaps you have been taken from the Mathematical Student Message Service, to which we have not yet contributed a message, but it is hoped that you don't know what is happening. There's no inaccurate information.)

But this one, we are told, was terrific. Wondering what was up, a member examined the ground and asked him what he was so brattish and why, of all things, he was digging.

"Where have you been all this time?" the rabbit replied, turned his body and said "If you say, I'll be next to be found."

"No, no fear," answered the brattish rabbit, "how can I sell my soul?"

Edwards and their fellow rabbits, knowing the rabbit to be hollower than the rest, exchanged four glances of sympathy, felt a little sorry for themselves, and then got back to the business in hand.

The spell of "Black Magic" was broken last Saturday night, in the same night, Lindley had presented the first "Club X" at 1:30.

The college's annual "C'fessor" was held last Saturday night from 8:00 to 11:30. There were about 500 people in attendance, including students, faculty, and guests. The event was preceded by a prayer led by Mr. J. C. Davidson, who served as the master of ceremonies. The night started with a reading of the college's prayer, and then the annual "C'fessor" was held. The event included music, speeches, and a variety of activities, with students and faculty participating in a variety of ways. The night ended with a prayer, and the college's "C'fessor" was officially closed.
