Mary of Scotland
Tells of Protestant Rule

By Janie Granger

It is a story, largely right which is told by the people of Scotland at the part of the story. In their minds, the characters of Mary of Scotland, a young woman who lived in the 16th century, are preserved in their memories. She was a Protestant who tried to make religious reforms in Scotland.

Mary was born in 1542, the daughter of James V of Scotland, and she was raised in a Catholic environment. However, she became a Protestant and began to challenge the Catholic Church in Scotland. This caused tensions with the English, who were also Protestant, and eventually led to her being imprisoned and executed.

Mary's story is told in various ways, from historical documents to plays and films. One of the most famous representations of her story is in the movie "Mary, Queen of Scots". The story of Mary of Scotland continues to be remembered and studied, as it provides insights into the history of Protestantism and the struggle for religious freedom.

More Officers Picked, Honor New Initiates

The time has come to honor the many new initiates who have been selected to join our brotherhoodthis weekend with a dinner, "Diamonds Are A Girl's Best Friend." Miss Blackwell's plan is for the Landshark's Estate to provide a splendid dinner to honor the new initiates. This will be a momentous occasion for all of the members, as the evening will be filled with socializing and entertainment.

Sunday night, the evening will begin with a formal dinner at the Landshark's Estate. The dress code for the evening will be formal, with guests expected to arrive in their finest attire. The dinner will be followed by a series of speeches, speeches honoring the new initiates.

Following the dinner, the evening will continue with music and dancing until late into the night. Guests will enjoy the lively atmosphere and the opportunity to socialize with their friends and fellow members.

For those interested in attending, please contact the office to make your reservations. The deadline for reservations is Friday, May 6th.

Oddsities Mark Court Season

The University of Idaho basketball squad hung up their jerseys and once again became students when the Western Division hoop race was concluded. The Vandals won nine and lost nine, which was the same record of the previous season. This time, however, the finish was in a tie for second place with the University of Oregon. There was a number of story points in the whole thing.

1. Against Oregon for the first time in years, the Vandals won the ocean-term game in overtime, 64-63. The margin was the smallest in the game's history, while the one point was the smallest. The score was the second closest in the game's history.
