

NEW LOOK — Science facilities at Idaho will probably be spruced up next, according to the Idaho House of Representatives bill appropriating building funds for 1962-63. All buildings will be modern, spacious and easily accessible, according to the bill. [Page 5]

Alcoholic Drink Still Legal At 20

A cry of reform has been heard coming from the fly boys around the country mostly from people who are against the supposed law. One friend is even to the point of saying that he's seen several instances of illegal drinking and driving accidents. For this reason, the idea of making alcohol illegal is gaining ground.

The story of the temperance movement is long and complex. It began in the late 18th century when Dr. Benjamin Rush introduced a series of resolutions to Congress calling for the amendment of the Constitution to prohibit the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors. These resolutions were adopted by the state legislatures and were successful in securing the ratification of the 18th Amendment to the Constitution in 1919.

In Idaho, the sale of alcohol is regulated by the state Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control. The department issues licenses to retailers and enforces the state’s laws regarding the sale and distribution of alcohol.

Bellhivers Sell Tri-Tony's

The sale of Tri-Tony’s in the University Union has been suspended temporarily due to the problem of students consuming large quantities of the drink. The university has taken action to curb the problem and has informed students that they will be referred to the police department for assistance.

Horror Movie Set For SUB Series Soon

"Deborah," a French horror film directed by a New York Times critic as "tops of the decade," is scheduled for the SUB series this spring. The picture is a psychological horror story about a young woman who becomes involved in a series of bizarre events.

Civil Service Talks Coming

Increasing interest within the University of Idaho and the state legislature has created a theme for the Civil Service Senate meeting on Thursday. The theme is, "The Future of the Civil Service in Idaho: A National and International Perspective." Mr. John Johnson and Mr. John Carter will present their research to the Senate.

Last Year's Election

The Idaho State Senate has been in session for about 90 days, and the candidates are busy campaigning. The campaign has been characterized by a lack of enthusiasm on the part of both Republicans and Democrats. The candidates are primarily interested in getting their names on the ballot and securing the support of the people.

Victory Dance Slated After Friday Game

The Idaho State University-University of Idaho football game is scheduled for Friday, November 10, at 7 p.m. at the University of Idaho stadium. The game is expected to be a highly competitive contest between two of the top teams in the nation.

dated

Several weeks ago, in a letter to the editor of the Idaho State Student newspaper, Mr. George Smith stated, "I don't believe that the law should be changed. I believe that the law should be reinforced."

United Kicks Off Action In Election

The United Student Government (USG) is launching an election campaign this week to elect new officers for the 1963-64 academic year. The USG is the student government organization at the University of Idaho.

Mr. John Smith, President of the USG, said, "We are looking for candidates who are dedicated to serving the students and the University."

Mullen Answers Critics Of E Board

"I do not always agree with the Board of Regents, but I have learned to respect their decisions," said Mr. John Mullen, President of the State Board of Education.

Victory Dance Slated After Friday Game

The Idaho State University-University of Idaho football game is scheduled for Friday, November 10, at 7 p.m. at the University of Idaho stadium. The game is expected to be a highly competitive contest between two of the top teams in the nation.

The Idaho Student Body is busy planning for the upcoming football game. The Student Body plans to host a victory dance following the game.

The dance is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. at the University Union. The Student Body is expecting a large crowd to attend the dance.

The University Union is located on the campus of the University of Idaho and is a popular gathering place for students. The Union features a variety of restaurants, bars, and entertainment options.
One Big Fallacy: Reasoning by Authority

Authority is a common source of fallacies in reasoning. It plays a role in everyday conversations, from the acceptance of official statements to the belief in the infallibility of experts and leaders. Here are some examples of fallacies that involve reasoning by authority:

1. Authority as Proof: This fallacy occurs when someone believes something because it is said to be true by an authority figure. For example, believing that something is true because a government official says so, without questioning the evidence or logic behind it.

2. Authority as Knowledge: This fallacy is when people accept what an authority figure says as fact, without considering whether the authority is qualified to speak on the matter or if the information is correct.

3. Authority as Authority: Similar to the previous fallacy, this occurs when people give more weight to the opinion of an authority figure simply because they are in that position, without evaluating the content of the information.

4. Authority as Authority: Expertise: This fallacy involves accepting the information of an authority figure because they are supposed to have expertise, without considering whether they actually do or if their expertise is relevant to the topic.

5. Authority as Authority: Reputation: Here, people accept the information of an authority figure simply because they are well-known or have a reputation for being knowledgeable, without evaluating the information.

In conclusion, recognizing authority fallacies can help us critically evaluate information and form our own opinions based on evidence and logic rather than simply accepting what authority figures say.
University of Idaho, Moscow, Idaho

Social News and Features

Marplan Survey Revealing: Tasty Mixter Psychology

What's a Mixter? A Mixter is a little-known social phenomenon that involves a group of friends mixing and mingling at various social events. This social group is characterized by a unique set of behaviors and attitudes that set it apart from other social groups. The survey conducted by Marplan revealed that Mixters are popular among young adults, especially those who are interested in exploring new social situations.

The survey found that Mixters are more likely to engage in casual conversation, share stories and ideas, and enjoy each other's company. They are also more likely to be open to new experiences and to be willing to try new things. The survey also found that Mixters are more likely to be interested in political and social issues, and are more likely to be involved in community activities.

The survey is part of a larger project that is examining the social behavior of young adults in the United States. The researchers are hoping that the findings of the survey will help them better understand the social dynamics of young adults and how they are shaping the future of society.

Jews Are Almost Non-existent in University Group—Why?

Argonaut Contributor

Not since the days of the great German emigration of the Jews have they been so non-existent in the University Group. This is due to the fact that Jews are not allowed to join in the University's activities, and that the University's activities are not open to Jews.

A noticeable and unusual phenomenon among Jewish students is the absence of Jews in the Jewish system of the University. This is due to the fact that Jews are not allowed to join in the University's activities, and that the University's activities are not open to Jews.

Many Jews feel that they are being discriminated against by the University, and are considering leaving the University.

ACS Chooses Cancer Topic

By KEVIN COOK

David C. Valder, director of the University's student health center, announced today that the ACS will hold its annual Cancer Research Conference for the first time in the University's history. The conference will be held at 9 a.m. on Tuesday, March 10, in Room 106 of the Student Center. The conference will feature keynote addresses by leading cancer researchers from around the world.

Round Trip's Mental State

Is Beyond Cynicism's Limit

Round Trip is a new musical that is currently being performed at the University's Main Stage. The musical tells the story of a man who travels to the future and discovers the true meaning of love.

If you are interested in attending the show, please call the Main Stage box office at 234-5678 for tickets. The show is being performed Thursday, Friday, and Saturday evenings at 7:30 p.m., and Sunday at 2:00 p.m.
Sports

Vandals Split Series With Oregon and OSC

Determination, Individual Efforts Bring Idaho Victory

Sports under Wally Wadsworth were featured in this Arizona newspaper.

Babes Break 100 Mark; Extend Record To 10-2

The Babes broke the 100 mark and extended their winning streak to ten with a win over the Beavers.

Babe Fresh Smash NIJC; Sched With 17 Leads Way

The Babes broke the 100 mark and extended their winning streak to ten with a win over the Beavers.

How to judge the value of a prescription

The true test of value is what you get for what you pay for. In this book, today's prescription is the key for him to smiled advantage.

Kenworthy Tonight's Sports Special: 7 at 9 and 9

Kenworthy's Tonight's Sports Special: 7 at 9 and 9.

Vandal Babes Join 100 Club; Gridders Set Idaho Records

The Idaho Dawn broke the 100 mark and extended their winning streak to ten with a win over the Beavers.

3 Weeks Till Baseball Season; Babes Begin Preparations

The Idaho Dawn broke the 100 mark and extended their winning streak to ten with a win over the Beavers.

35-JET-SMOOTH CHEVROLET PRICED LOWER THAN COMPETITIVE MODEL

The Idaho Dawn broke the 100 mark and extended their winning streak to ten with a win over the Beavers.

Idaho State Student Body

Eaton paper available at your

Eaton Paper Corporation

Eaton University Student Body

Eaton paper available at your

» WEATHER UNCERTAIN

It may be, but there's no need to be uncertain where you will sit down town. The Varsity always has room for you, but if you have a lot of friends, you may want to sit down town. The Varsity always has room for you, but if you have a lot of friends, you may want to sit down town.