Coalition Is Formed To Boost Candidates

By NEIL LEITNER

As the 21 political hopefuls currently running like crazy for the March 9 popularity contest, I have been somewhat unimpressed.

A condition centered around the Campus Club and Willis Sweet, with the distinct possibility that the newly formed, semi-secretive Coalition of Candidacies (COD) and the newly revitalized Campus Club might emerge as significant factors in the election.

English Scholar Will Be Next

Board English scholar Dr. James G. Prentice has been a full-time member of this academic body for the last three years.

The position was created in 1932 by the then-president of the University of Idaho, Dr. John H. B. Griffiths. It was originally intended for a person with a degree in English and at least five years of teaching experience.

Prentice has been teaching English at the university for the past three years and has been involved in various university committees and organizations.

The new position will be filled by a member of the Idaho State University English Department in the fall of 1961.

Debate Team Defends Title At Caldwell

The Idaho State College Debate Team, under the direction of Mr. James A. M. Whitehead, graduate assistant in speech department, won its second consecutive championship at the annual speech and debate tournament.

The tournament was held at Caldwell, Idaho, and the ISU team defeated the following schools:

1. Boise State College
2. Idaho State College
3. Lewis & Clark College
4. University of Idaho

The ISU team advanced to the final round of the tournament with a 14-13 decision over the University of Idaho team.

Faculty Awards Section On Inside

A Special Faculty Recognition Program was inaugurated on the Idaho State University campus today.

The program, which was established by the Idaho State University Board of Trustees, recognizes outstanding faculty members and their contributions to the university.

The program includes:

1. Outstanding Teaching Award
2. Excellent Research Award
3. Outstanding Service Award
4. Distinguished Service Award

The awards will be given annually to faculty members who have made significant contributions to the university.

Journo Tribune

An annual four-day newspaper and magazine competition was held on the campus, with the competition judged by the Idaho State University Board of Trustees.

The competition included:

1. Newspaper Design
2. Magazine Design
3. Feature Writing
4. Investigative Reporting

The competition was open to all faculty members and their contributions to the university.

Dean Kendrick Selected For Chamber Post

In the most recent election, Dean Kendrick was selected for the Chamber of Commerce post.

Dean Kendrick, who has been a member of the Chamber of Commerce for the past five years, was selected by the Chamber of Commerce executive committee.

Dean Kendrick graduated from the University of Idaho in 1947 and has been a member of the Chamber of Commerce since 1950.

ASC To Hear Talk At WSU

Raymond H. Shellabarger, director of the American Student Conference, will speak at WSU on Monday, November 20, at 8 p.m. in the Union.

Shellabarger is the national president of the American Student Conference, which is a national organization of college students.

The talk will be on "The Future of Higher Education."
SUB Showing 'Night Of The Hunter', Starring Robert Mitchum, Mar. 10-12

A psychological thriller directed by Charles Laughton and starring Robert Mitchum, showing March 10-12 at 8 p.m. in the Beinecke Theatre of the Yale University Art Gallery.

Robert Mitchum plays the part of a showboating, gun-toting, murderously psychotic trickster in a novel by Davis Grubb. A tale of evil and vice, with a house of ill-repute on its way down as the character of the mainliner doggedly pursues his victims.

With the candidates for political office all raising their qualifications, it would appear that the voters have ample opportunity to select the one who best meets their expectations. This is a difficult task, but it is one that we must all undertake if we are to ensure a fair and just election.

Students May Sign To Teach In East Africa

Students of the University who have been interested in studying in secondary schools of Eastern Africa have been working on the plan for many months. The University and the College of Education have been coordinating efforts to make the plan a reality.

The plan includes a three-year program where students will study the languages, cultures, and customs of the area. They will also be supervised by experienced teachers who will help them understand the local environment.

The University is proud to support this initiative and looks forward to seeing the students grow and succeed in their future endeavors.

Limbo Dance Hits Campus; Crazy Continues To Spread

By Gary Kendall

The limbo dance has become a popular trend on campus.
Students are posting challenging dances on social media,
and the craziness continues.

The limbo dance involves a group of people standing in a line, with one person in the middle touching the ground while the others try to squeeze under without touching it. It's a fun and exciting activity that everyone loves to participate in.

The craziness is not limited to the limbo dance.
Students are also participating in other activities such as the limbo challenge, which involves taking a picture while successfully passing under a low bar.

Everyone is having a blast and enjoying the excitement of the limbo craze.

“DON’T THINK THERE’S ANY END TO THE OPPORTUNITY IN THIS BUSINESS”

When Gene began his B.S. in Business Administration at the University of Illinois, he was touch in touch with 8 prospective employers.

Gene joined Hilo Bell Telephone because: “The people I talked to here made it very clear that I wouldn’t be shuffled into some narrow specialized job. I thought this job offered the greatest opportunity for broad experience.”

On his first assignment, Gene was sent to Springfield, where he conducted seminars in human relations
for management people.

His next move was to a telephone operations job in Hilo, Hawaii. On this assignment, he was in charge of all personnel who were directly responsible for handling telephone calls in this heavily populated area. Here Gene earned a reputation for sound judgment and skill in working with people. He was promoted to Traffic Supervisor.

Today, Gene’s chief responsibilities are in management training and development, and employee relations. The latter includes coordinating to public relations and helping settle labor disputes.

How does Gene feel about his job? “It’s a real challenge. I’m in some of the most vital and increasing work in the country. And about the future—Well there aren’t any pushover jobs around here. But if a man has what it takes, I don’t think there’s any end to the opportunity in this business.”

If you’re looking for a job with no ceiling on it—a job where you’re limited only by how much responsibility you can take and how well you can handle it—then call your local Yellow Pages and try an advertisement in the Bell Companies.

Vandals Bow To Cougars; Face Huskies Here Tonight

By DICK LYMAN

Argumed1er Sports Writer

The Vandals, coming from Tuesday's 74-67 defeat by Wsu, will have a strong University of Idaho student- fan attendance when they host the University of Washington Huskies tonight in the University of Idaho's Memorial Gymnasium.

Dagg's game should be especially interesting to those who recall the last time these two teams met, a 74-67 victory over Idaho last March, and who insist that Washington Huskies have lost many games over the years.

The Vandals and the Huskies have always been the two main teams in the Northwest, and this is their first meeting under new coaching systems.

The university's basketball team was considered the "most improved" team in the Northwest. The Vandals have the momentum of a 5-1 record, and the Huskies have the momentum of a 4-0 record.

The Vandals will be led by sophomore guard Terry Doyle, who has scored 24 points in the last two games. Washington will be led by senior center Halvor Andersen, who has shot 60 percent from the field.

Injuries Plague Tracksters

The injury report for the Idaho track team on Saturday was long, with several members of the team expected to miss the upcoming meet.

Gary March, the head coach of the track team, said that the athletes would be reevaluated in the next few days to determine their availability for the upcoming meet.

Idaho Frosh Tip Coubabs

If the Washington State University basketball team is going to win a NCAA game, it must do so on the road. The Vandals, therefore, feel that they have a good chance to win the game.

The Vandals have been practicing hard this week to prepare for the game, and they feel that they have a good chance to win.

The Idaho State team, on the other hand, has been practicing hard this week to prepare for the game, and they feel that they have a good chance to win.

H.S. Tourney Starts Monday

The first week of high school basketball tournaments will begin Monday at 8:30 a.m. in the Idaho State Capital City.

The tournament will feature 32 teams from the Idaho State Capital City area, with the winners advancing to the state tournament.

Anyone for Pizza?

The Idaho State University's Athletic Department is sponsoring a "Pizza Night" at the Idaho State University's Student Union on Friday night.

Shakey's Pizza, a local chain, will be serving pizza, and the proceeds will go to the Idaho State University's Athletic Department.

On the eve of the tournament, Shakey's Pizza will be serving special pizzas, and the proceeds will go to the Idaho State University's Athletic Department.
