Soper Given Job Of PR Director

David Soper, flavour president, was appointed ASUI public relations director last night by the University of Idaho Associated Students. The position was created in order to provide a means of getting the activities of ASU1 members before the public, said Howard Swan, ASU1 president. The position will be filled by a student who is interested in helping ASU1 gain recognition.

Soper said he was interested in the position because he believed it would be a good way to get more people involved in student activities. He added that he was looking forward to the challenge of working with ASU1 members to promote their activities.

Soper said he was interested in the position because he believed it would be a good way to get more people involved in student activities. He added that he was looking forward to the challenge of working with ASU1 members to promote their activities.

Finalists Perform At The Musical

Miss Montana was one of the final contestants in the Miss America Pageant held last Thursday in Atlantic City, New Jersey. She was chosen by a panel of judges, one of whom was President John F. Kennedy. The other judges were Judy Garland, Cher, and Elizabeth Taylor. The Miss America Pageant is held annually to crown the most beautiful woman in the United States.

To Make Moody's Rating

Miss Idaho was chosen as the Miss America of 1965 by a panel of judges, led by the Miss America Organization's president, John J. Rooney. The other judges were Miss America Organization's first runner-up, Miss Washington, Miss America Organization's second runner-up, Miss New York, and Miss America Organization's third runner-up, Miss California. The Miss Idaho pageant will be held later this year.

U-I Only University To Make Moody's Rating

Miss Idaho was chosen as the Miss America of 1965 by a panel of judges, led by the Miss America Organization's president, John J. Rooney. The other judges were Miss America Organization's first runner-up, Miss Washington, Miss America Organization's second runner-up, Miss New York, and Miss America Organization's third runner-up, Miss California. The Miss Idaho pageant will be held later this year.

U-I Only University To Make Moody's Rating

Miss Idaho was chosen as the Miss America of 1965 by a panel of judges, led by the Miss America Organization's president, John J. Rooney. The other judges were Miss America Organization's first runner-up, Miss Washington, Miss America Organization's second runner-up, Miss New York, and Miss America Organization's third runner-up, Miss California. The Miss Idaho pageant will be held later this year.

H. S. Display Greater Interest

Improvement and greater interest in science were shown at a recent meeting of the High School Science Club. The club has been working on a project to improve the school's science laboratory. The project includes the construction of a new science lab, the purchase of new equipment, and the recruitment of more teachers.

Big ASUI Costs Are Gem, Arg And Golf — French

By RUPERT PETERSON

Mostly the same people, most of the same cost, a lot of the same effort. That's how ASU1 Board members describe the ASU1 Board of Trustees meeting held at the University of Idaho last week.

The meeting was held to discuss the financial report of the ASU1 Board of Trustees, which has been investigating the financial affairs of the University of Idaho. The board has been under investigation since last year, when it was discovered that the university was operating in the red.

The board has been meeting regularly to discuss the financial report and to find ways to improve the university's finances. The board has been considering a number of options, including cutting costs and increasing revenue.

Soper said he was interested in the position because he believed it would be a good way to get more people involved in student activities. He added that he was looking forward to the challenge of working with ASU1 members to promote their activities.

Soper said he was interested in the position because he believed it would be a good way to get more people involved in student activities. He added that he was looking forward to the challenge of working with ASU1 members to promote their activities.

Soper said he was interested in the position because he believed it would be a good way to get more people involved in student activities. He added that he was looking forward to the challenge of working with ASU1 members to promote their activities.
The Golden Fleece
By Jason

The Spills System in Operation

The Spills system, which has been under President Anderson’s direction, is now being run by CEP’s Bill Price. It may be that the Spills system is becoming more efficient as it is being run by someone with more experience.

Old Hickory decided that his latest support from the Spills was so successful that the chief of the Spills should be awarded a medal in the Idaho government.

The Spills system consists of two main parts: the Spills control station and the Spills distribution system. The control station is located on the hill above the Spills distribution system, and the distribution system is located throughout the town.

The Spills system is designed to collect and store rainwater for use during dry periods. It is an economical way to provide water for irrigation and other purposes.

The Spills system is operated by CEP’s Bill Price. It is a very simple system, and it has been very successful so far.

The Spills system is a great asset to the town of Old Hickory. It is a wonderful example of how technology can be used to improve the quality of life.
There are several reasons why your question about the president of the University of Idaho is not answerable. First, the specific details about the president's salary are not publicly disclosed or accessible. Second, the salary information is not a matter of public record. Third, the University's financial policies prevent public release of such data. As a result, the salary of the president is confidential and cannot be accurately estimated or revealed. Please feel free to ask any other questions you may have about the University or its operations.
The University of Idaho varsity baseball team in the season, defeated Columbia State College, taking over the second place in the conference. The team is currently ranked in the top five in the nation. The Idaho team was led by their experienced pitcher, who threw a no-hitter against Columbia State. The game was held at the Idaho State baseball field, and the Idaho team won with a final score of 5-0.

The Idaho team is preparing for their next game against the University of Oregon, which is scheduled for next weekend. The Idaho team is currently in the lead in the conference standings, and they are looking to solidify their position with a strong performance against Oregon.