Engineers Have Holiday Party
at Dean Little’s

"Is it in Moscow?"
"Nope."
"Is it in the earth?"
"Nope."
"Can we see it?"
"It is real!"

"What in the flam flas is this?"

After reading the above conversation you're probably sure to come to the conclusion that both parties are residents of the North Idaho Home Assoc. But this isn't the case—we're just practicing a trick of the trade. We have to pay a sum of money to be called a "joke". The above party was actually the gathering of a few of the angry Atlantans. The report involved was to be widely spread and was a great source of consolation to the party with Coffin Cylinder in his feverish attempt to try and descend the square root of minus three. But we'll have to bail a hell here, as we are WAY in the middle of our story, and you'll have to be patient until we come to that point. So stay tuned and we'll try to make it worth your while.

To begin with, it was HOGGY party. Nobody knew how long it was going to last, but high-browed social circles, a regular party, where you felt like home right from the start, and kept on feeling that way right through. Everybody was there, and really it was a pretty happy crowd. There was a lot of drinking and never anyone seemed to try to forget about it. We even went there again, and nobody seemed to mind. It was a good party, and we had a good time.

Now, to finish up, let's give you a few hints on how to have a good party. First of all, don't let your friends drink too much. Second, don't mix up your drinks. Third, don't let your friends drive home. Fourth, don't go to bed too late. Fifth, don't let your friends eat too much.

Delightful Domestic Perfumes

The Europeans were not prepared for the impact that perfumes had on the market. The average person—so they thought—did not have the time or money to wear perfume. However, the Black-Label perfumes changed that perception.

Huodan’s, Colgate’s, Palmer’s and others are delightfully soothing scents that will please the most fastidious.

The American-made perfumes. The quality and price, too, are right.
