The old art and architecture building will be torn down after commencement to make way for a new bell tower. According to President Theodor J. Pracht, plans, which were mentioned in an article, have been called for by the state commission for public works.

Dr. Pracht said that the destruction will begin as soon as the final plans are approved by the State Department and that work will move ahead without much extra time.

The new building will house the administration office and the art and architecture department, which now occupy the second floor of the old structure.

The ground floor will be devoted to the auditorium and lecture rooms, and the second floor will contain classrooms and faculty offices.

The basement of the old building will be used to create a new art and architecture department, and the future structure will be an integral part of the new building.

Speech Emphasizes Greek Responsibility

Activities for the first annual Greek Week began on Sunday when Robert Elder, speaker, president of the Greek Life, spoke at the opening ceremony. "A Greek's Responsibility and Goals in Life" was the subject of Elder's address.

Elder discussed the importance of the Greek Life and the responsibilities that come with it. "A Greek's responsibility is to be a good member of the university," he said. "It is important to be involved in the Greek Life and to make a positive impact on the community."

"Greek Life is a great way to meet new people and make lifelong friendships," Elder added. "It is also a great way to get involved in the university and make a difference."

The Greek Life consists of several organizations, including fraternities, sororities, and social clubs. Each organization has its own unique set of responsibilities and goals.

Piedemont

"The green grows, but piedemontans! This international question is the focus of a 25-week series of half-hour radio programs currently broadcast over the stations by National Educational Radio (NER).

Program number nine in the series, titled "Piedemontans in Terra"—Earth is scheduled for 8 p.m. Thursday on University station KUID-FM.

The series was taped two weeks earlier from an earlier international conference on "The Future of Depleted Uranium" organized by the National Academy of Sciences, Santa Barbara, California.

The conference resulted from the report compiled by Stanislaw Baranski in Terra in which the late Pope John XXIII ad

No Holiday Set

May 31 for U-I

The annual holiday set for the University of Idaho's School of Music is May 31, 1964. The holiday is a day of rest and relaxation for the students and faculty.

The holiday is observed on the third Thursday of May, and the University will be closed on that day. All classes and activities will be suspended.

The holiday is an annual event that is observed by the University of Idaho and is a day of reflection and remembrance. It is a day for students and faculty to reflect on the past and look forward to the future.

The holiday is an opportunity for the University of Idaho to honor the memory of those who have made the ultimate sacrifice for their country.

Merritton — McCarthyism, we hope it isn't the name.

It hasn't been two years since the United States Senate Investigating Committee on Un-American Activities was at its peak. But that investigating committee reached its peak in a manner that still leaves distant in the mouths of many Americans. And the wounds it left on some in McCarthyism's wake are still healing.

The new Executive Board has taken a bold and imaginative step in creating for itself an investigative role in student and University matters. As a result, the principles and aims of the University are to be better protected in the organization.

Key To Requests
A committee of this nature can be the most effective way for a Board to earn the respect of all portions of the University's student and faculty populations. Many of these same people are the ones who charge the administration and government in other institutions with a board.

More important, in this way, the Board may at last put an end—way one or two—of the claims that the students are not being heard.

And now the Board has the added responsibility of dealing with the Board of the University and the administration.

Thanks to the lack of an off-campus housing board approval is possible at the University.

And now the Board has added the University's list of departments and committees to investigating.

Can't Change It?
An Argonaut staff of a few years back warned us that the Board would not act and we didn't cut the red tape in the ARGUS. That was near the end of our existence. Now with 14 issues to try, and a new Board taking the line, it is our turn to make things easier for ourselves.

It is hard to believe that Barlow Street is going to be more accessible to anyone from the outside of the campus. We are about to cause inexcusable feelings in some areas of residence to the student government and the administration? Are we looking into the wrong areas?

This is a bold step in the right direction. The investigation of the Board of the Board is going to have to ask and to answer the McCrory Committee didn't in its investigations of the government and the American people.

Tri Delta’s Planning Pansy Breakfast

Time and tons of flowers will be used to deck out the Tri Delta’s annual Pansy Breakfast, which honors sorority.

The program starts at 5 p.m. Sunday morning. Betty Jean Bonner, chapter president, will give the welcoming speech, and Dr. Robert Max 116, along with flowers and plants, will present the scholarship to the outstanding senior woman.

Traditional The flowers are the sorority’s traditional plant, which will be held in a mock wedding corsage, a big pansy arch, and a marguerite frame.

The girls leave early Saturday morning in their search for the perfect plants and pick all morning long.

"We go out for as long as we can get flowers," said Cheryl Holmgren, Tri Delta, and Carman. We have about 25 flowers every year too, she said.

Ruth Rulee "We start them in the back yard, in the stock, shovels, and anything else that will keep their hands busy while the program flows smoothly," she said.

Vandals Split Series With Grizzlies

The Idaho Vandals split their final Big Sky Conference doubleheader of the season Saturday as they won the first game 4-0 and then lost the second 7-4 to Montana State University.

Sharp pitching featured both games as Bill Stearns and Gary Johnson blanked the Grizzlies in the opener but Fernandez of Montana State came through with three of his four hits in the nightcap.

The series ran Idaho's mark to 18-24-1 and Montana's overall Big Sky record to 20-19-1.

Vandal pitcher overlooking the outfield and the Grizzlies' dugout was Bill Fernandez of Montana State.

The Vandals won two one-hitters by Fernandez as they blanked the Grizzlies 4-0 and 7-4 Saturday at the University of Idaho's Nemothac Field in a doubleheader.

Fernandez of Montana State not only threw two one-hitters but also belted a single at home plate in the second game.

In the opener, Fernandez faced Frank Castell and steered the Vandals to a 4-0 victory over the Grizzlies.

In the second contest, Fernandez belted a single to drive in his team's third run of the game and then fanned eight in leading the Vandals to a 7-4 victory.

Fernandez, who batted .600 in the doubleheader, was named the MVP for the series.

The Vandals will return home next weekend for a crucial three-game series against Washington State University.

Montana State will play Idaho State Saturday at the State Fairgrounds to complete a crucial series.

Montana State will then play its final home game at Montana Fair Saturday, April 14.

The Vandals will play their final two games of the season next week against Washington State University.
