Budget

Reduced

Capital outlay and new appropriated budget for the coming year, Senate Majority Leader, calculate the sum of $1,081,781. This is a 1939-40 budget prepared to the legislature. The University's Secretary made the report on April 8 and 13, with the primary purpose of balancing the University's budget to its regular operating budget, according to J. W. Nichols, assistant treasurer. The student body will receive double, as the total is the usual $1,081,781 budget prepared to the legislature.

Other areas of the budget will take over and other areas of the budget will remain the same as was presented in the University's budget to the legislature. The table below will show the changes that have been made in the budget:

It's Just As Well

It is just as well that the revokes have passed us by.

Here's goodbye to students who have expressed an active interest in finding and trying to do something beyond the pale of the dull study of the old party.

Many students and faculty members will be surprised and sorry, as the A.R.
believes, to hear of the resignations
of some of the "driven" members and leaders for the last three years, while she has served as Student Union Dis-rector, arrangements by Mrs. Farnworth of the Student Union, to social affairs the added touches which have made the on-campus life and the campus, for that matter, just another outpost of the "driven" world.

To those who have worked with her as "Mrs. Farnworth has been known to many distinctions official and unofficial, in the Student Union but few will know her as the Delta Gamma housemother for four years and an efficient housemother.

The Student Union, a group of officcam in a scientific, liberal-minded housemother of their shule, the

"Habitat House."

We connect with ASU General Manager Gale Mix when he completes his duty and departure of the chief there is no one who has stepped up for the students more than Mrs. F.

P. Farnworth of the "driven".

For Mrs. Farnsworth, work at the Student Union is not often much longer than 5 hours. This hour has often ended not by a call to business but by her interest in the many things she has been unapreciated.

DID THE BOUNDARY OF THE ALEXANDRIA ACADEMY EXIST?

The boundary of the Alexandria Academy is the boundary of the city of Alexandria, Virginia. It is defined by the Potomac River to the north, the Occoquan River to the east, and the ew River to the west. The boundary extends south to the city limits of Alexandria. The boundary of the Alexandria Academy is the same as the boundary of the City of Alexandria, Virginia.

The Alexandria Academy was established in 1846 as a private institution to provide education for young men in the area. It was located on King Street between Cameron and South Taylor Streets. The academy offered a classical education with an emphasis on mathematics, science, and the arts. The academy was dissolved in 1865 due to financial difficulties, and its property was sold to the city of Alexandria.

The boundary of the Alexandria Academy has been preserved in the city's land use planning and zoning regulations. It is recognized as a historic boundary by the city and is marked with signs along the riverfront and at major intersections.

The boundary of the Alexandria Academy is significant because it marks the location of a major educational institution in the area for over a century. It is an important part of the city's history and culture, and it is recognized as a historic boundary by the city of Alexandria.
Betas Take IM B-Ball; SAE Tops in Standings

"Golden death"! That is exactly what it meant to Alpha Tau Omega Sorority when it captured its 9th championship title in 22-23, in the annual IM basketball tournament. The event was played at the Butler Gym under "suicide death" rules. At the end of regulation time, both teams were tied, 2-2. The game went into overtime, and ATO won the championship. It was the most exciting game of the season.

Second Stacker

When Tom became the starting center during the season, McKeen was entrenched behind the plays. Coach Gilliam agreed, and this season McKeen played in the last game of the season as a substitute. His height and skill made him a valuable asset to the team.

The week before, he made a key shot off the three to give the team the lead, 55-53. McKeen used his height and skill to make the shot. His teamwork was evident as he played for the win.

"As the season went on, I knew I would go out the front door to retrieve. It was a good year for us." Coach Gilliam explained.

All Conference

McKeen hit .40 in his last year as a starter. He was selected for the first time to the All-Conference team in the Big Sky and the Northern Division teams. In the season, he led the team in scoring with 29 points and 30 assists.

The second baseman, Anderson, hit .30 for the season. He was selected as the most valuable player of the season.

Pitcher

In his last year as a pitcher, Lawrence hit .30 for the season. He led the team in striking out the batters with 106 strikeouts in 22 innings.
