The University of Idaho, Moscow, Idaho, will sponsor a Candlelight Concert on Sunday, December 15, in the University Center. The concert will feature the University Singers, the Moscow Community Choir, and the University of Idaho Symphony Orchestra. The concert will also include a performance by the Moscow High School Chamber Orchestra.

The concert will begin at 7:30 p.m. and will feature a variety of Christmas carols, including traditional favorites such as "Silent Night," "O Holy Night," and "Hark! the Herald Angels Sing." The program will also include modern arrangements of classic works, as well as original compositions by the University Singers and the Moscow Community Choir.

The Candlelight Concert is free and open to the public. In addition to the concert, the University Center will be decorated with Christmas decorations, including lights and ornaments. Visitors are encouraged to arrive early to take advantage of the festive atmosphere.

For more information, please contact the University Singers at 208-885-5000 or visit their website at www.universitysingers.org. The Candlelight Concert is being sponsored by the University Singers and the Moscow Community Choir, with support from the Moscow High School Chamber Orchestra.

VISTA Picks U-Publication
A publication has been selected for the VISTA (University of Idaho School System) Public Affairs, with the help of the staff of the Idaho State Register. The publication will be made available at the University of Idaho in the early spring. It has been published in cooperation with the Idaho State Register, and is designed to reach the large group of students who live in the area and who are interested in current events.

The publication will be a major newspaper, covering local news, sports, and current events. It will be distributed on a weekly basis, with articles on current events, sports, and local news. The publication will be produced by the staff of the Idaho State Register, and will be distributed to the students of the University of Idaho.

Report Predicts Rise in Number of Handicapped

The number of mentally and physically handicapped people in the United States is predicted to rise sharply in the next five years. According to the report, which is based on data from the government's own statistics, the number of handicapped people will increase by 30% over the next five years. The report also predicts that the majority of these new handicapped people will be children. The report warns that this increase will place a strain on the already overburdened healthcare system, and that more resources will be needed to accommodate these new handicapped people.

Coast Team Has Speed and Size

California WesternIndians, a tough, fast-breaking group that has defeated many major college teams, defeated Loyola 120-99 today at the University of Hawaii's Stan Sheriff Center in Honolulu. Loyola (20-10) has lost six of its last seven games and is in serious trouble of losing the No. 1 spot in the West Coast Conference. California Western (29-2) has won its last seven games and is a serious contender for the West Coast Conference championship.

The game was played in front of a crowd of 3,000 fans, who watched the Indians score 46 points in the first half alone.

In the second half, Loyola was able to score 27 points, but it was not enough to overcome the Indians' lead. California Western's leading scorer was guard Mark Smith, who scored 24 points. Loyola's leading scorer was guard Frank Williams, who scored 18 points.

The game was part of a series of games between the two teams, which have met in the past. California Western has won four of the five games, with Loyola winning one.

The Indians are now 38-10 for the season and have a good chance of winning the West Coast Conference championship. Loyola, on the other hand, is in serious trouble of losing the No. 1 spot in the West Coast Conference.
