Concert Includes Words Of Willy

Denver's 50th birthday will be celebrated this spring with a concert and a performance of "The Messiah" by the Denver Festival Orchestra and soprano Marilyn Horne on March 17 at 8 p.m. in the McNichols Auditorium. The concert will be presented as part of the annual "Choral Festival of Denver." The concert will feature M. Curtis, assistant music director of the festival, and the festival's chorus, the Denver Festival Orchestra and Chorus, under the direction of Lawrence Goertzen. The program will include works by Handel, Mozart, and Beethoven.

Hours Cut By E-Board

A proposal to reduce the hours of the Board of Trustees was adopted by a vote of 10 to 4 at the board's meeting on March 15. The proposal, which would reduce the board's meeting time from three hours to one hour, was introduced by President Bill Frisvold and approved by the board.

University Students Make Use Of Funds

By FRED FREEMAN

The Associated Students of the University of Idaho (ASUI) have made some decisions regarding the use of funds provided by the Associated Students of the University of Idaho (ASUI) Council. The council has provided funds to support various programs and activities on campus.

University has extended hours

The university has extended hours to accommodate students who may need extra time to complete their coursework. The additional hours are designed to provide students with more flexibility in their schedules and to help them stay on track academically.

Hours were cut because

The decision to cut hours was made in response to budget constraints and in an effort to reduce costs. The university has been facing budget challenges, and cutting hours was one of the steps taken to address these challenges.

Military Ball Candidates
Will Be Limited To Six

The method of selecting a queen has been changed from the past. In former years, girls have been named queen of the Military Ball by a military man, a military man of the University staff, or a member of the three presidential groups. This year, everything will be chosen by a committee condominating the officers of the University Senate and a faculty member.

The plan has a chance to become Military Ball once again. The men who do the selection are of the same group as the committee that attended formalities as well as duties for the Senate, and their jobs and actions as business men should be carefully considered.

There are no girls who are chosen for whatever reason other than for their qualifications. The new queen will be chosen by the Senate and the new queen will remain in her position.

Mona Sheehan, the 1934 queen, said this about the change: "The queen will be chosen by the Senate and she will remain in her position. This is an improvement."

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

SALUTE: HERBERT SUTTON, JR.

Bell Sutton (R.E.E.E., 1961) got a good basic education in mathematics and engineering while working on highvoltage engineering and actual physical construction qualifications. His first assignment was from the starting up. But he came, and he's here.

Bell advanced from an assistant engineer in construction work to a line engineer where he is responsible for the maintenance and service of all outside telephone equipment in the San Bruno area of Pacific Telephone. His present assignment puts him at the hub of telephone operations, a prime job that calls for his telephone knowledge and his supervisory abilities.

Bell Sutton, like many other engineers, was hired to make things happen for his company and himself. There are few places where such engineers are more needed or rewarded than in the fast-growing telephone business.

Basketball, Bowling Get Into Action

Intercollegiate basketball and bowling get into action this week with both sports being played by Wasu teams. The basketball team played in a double-bargain Sunday; the bowling team is holding practice Monday and Tuesday as it gets ready to meet Idaho on Friday.

The basketball team is beginning to show some form of cohesion. This is due to the coaching methods of Coach Harry Graham. The team is working hard and playing with great enthusiasm.

Bowling season started Monday when the Wasu team went to the Madison Discus at a bowling alley across from the Colfax Hotel on Second Street. The team was coached by Chuck Boccieri, a former Wasu basketball and baseball player.
