The President's Christmas Message

Sincere greetings of the season to all members of the student body of the University. May your holidays be filled with good and your new year one of satisfaction and fulfillment.

Thisyear's holidays are more than any in recent history marks a period of shared national suffering, the result of our participation in this war. The war has brought to us a new sense of purpose and direction. It will be the task of all of you, the students, to carry on the needs of the war in such a way that it may be a real contribution to the war effort.

The planning of this special event, the “Presidential” event, has been a major undertaking for the student government. The success of the event is due to the efforts of all those who have participated in its planning and execution. The purpose of the event is to give the students an opportunity to express their feelings and to show their appreciation for the sacrifices made by those who have served in the armed forces.

I join with you in expressing my gratitude to all those who have contributed to the success of this event. The students have demonstrated their ability to work together and to overcome difficulties in order to achieve a common goal.

I wish you all a very happy holiday season and a new year filled with success and accomplishment.

Bill of Rights, Coliseum Topic of Faculty Council

By Penny Proctor

The student bill of rights, the outspoken declaration of goals of the student organization, has been adopted by the faculty council. The adoption of the bill is a step towards creating a more democratic atmosphere on campus.

The Bill of Rights, as adopted by the faculty council, contains several important provisions. These include the right of students to be free of discrimination, the right to a safe and secure environment, the right to participate in the decision-making process, and the right to a fair and equitable treatment in all aspects of campus life.

The adoption of the bill of rights is a significant step towards creating a more inclusive and participatory campus community. It is a testament to the commitment of the faculty and administration to uphold the principles of democracy and equity.

Student vehicles must be moved

All student cars in the parking lots are required to park in one of the following areas to avoid damage to cars: the lots adjacent to the Physical Science Building, the Lots adjacent to the Physical Science Building, and the Lots adjacent to the Physical Science Building.

Coffee hour slot for writers

Today, from 4:00 to 5:00 p.m., the Student Council will hold a coffee hour for writers. The purpose of the event is to provide a space for students to share their writing and to receive feedback from peers.

The coffee hour will be held in the Student Center. All students are welcome to attend. Refreshments will be provided.

Rumors of epidemic false; classes to continue

There has been some speculation about an epidemic of some sort on campus, but the administration has reassured students that there is no cause for concern.

The rumors are unfounded, and classes will continue as scheduled. The administration has taken steps to ensure the health and safety of students and faculty.

Editorial Opinion

Food Price Survey

The food prices are not out of line, according to many of the students. This is especially true in recent months, as the prices have remained relatively stable.

Several students have expressed concern about the rising cost of food. However, others argue that with careful budgeting, it is possible to eat well and stay within a reasonable budget.

The trend of rising food prices is not unique to this university. Many other campuses are experiencing similar increases.

A good cause

A good cause is one of the best ways to support students. It is a great way to show your appreciation to the people who need it the most.

Such causes include the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF), which helps children in need around the world. UNICEF works to provide essential services such as clean water, healthcare, and education.

UNICEF is a non-governmental organization that works to improve the lives of children worldwide. They work to prevent child mortality, protect children from violence, and ensure that all children have access to education.

In summary, supporting a good cause like UNICEF can make a real difference in the lives of children around the world. UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, MOSCOW, IDAHO

WSU Juniors will live off campus next year

Junior women and men at least 20 years of age will be permitted to live off campus during the next academic year at Washington State University. Dean of Students C. C. Clominger announced today.

"The new policy stems from campus living problems with Junior women," said Dean Clominger. "We feel that the junior women need more living space and freedom to live independently."

Two Idaho professors awarded fellowships

Two professors of the Idaho Engineering Department, Dr. E. E. Pela and Dr. J. G. Gray, have been awarded National Science Foundation fellowships for the study of crystal growth. Dr. Pela, who is associated with the study of crystal growth, has already made significant contributions to the field.

The professors' work under this grant will be of great importance to the study of crystal growth. Their research will advance our understanding of crystal growth and have applications in many fields, including materials science and technology.

Idaho Cagers Sweep Doubleheader

Two more wins on Idaho's record book this weekend allowed the Vandals to distance themselves from conference leader Washington State, 19-10. Idaho, with a record of 8-12 in the league, moved its conference mark to 5-6, with Seattle and Washington State coming in at 5-7. Idaho's winning streak is 5 in a row, with four straight over the Cougars.

The Vandals' sweep of the Cougars was not without its share of drama. In the first game, the Cougars took the lead early, only to have the Vandals tie it up in the second half. The second game was a thriller, with the Vandals pulling away in the final minutes. Idaho's defense was the key to their success, limiting the Cougars to just 66 points in the two games.

Freshman Drop Pair

The Idaho Vandals dropped both their conference opponents to seal their second and third consecutive victories. The Vandals have now won five straight, with three of those wins coming against conference foes.

The Vandals' victory over the Cougars was a strong performance by the Vandals' defense, which limited the Cougars to just 66 points in the two games. The Vandals' defense was led by junior guard Alex H бы, who had a career-high 23 points, including five 3-pointers. H обы's performance was key in sealing the Vandals' second consecutive victory.

Radio-TV to build new center in city

By DON C. JAMES

A new building to house the Radio and Television department of the University of Idaho is said to be under construction across the street from where the present studio is located. The new building will be designed to accommodate the needs of the department.

Facilities for the new building are being discussed. The present studio is not expected to be adequate for the new department.

The new building is expected to provide more space for recording, production, and broadcasting activities. It will also have facilities for television production and broadcasting.

Audio-visual services increasing to schools

Senior Frank Church said last week that the Federal Income Tax Reform bill, which is responsible for the new tax cut, will place more restrictions and changes in the income tax structures. But a law professor, Dr. John Fisher, said, "Some people are not sure how the new tax cut will affect their income tax payments."

The bill, which is expected to extend federal tax credits, will be cautious to protect against changes in income tax laws. It will also restrict the deductions that are available to taxpayers.

Dr. Fisher noted that the changes in the tax law will affect the way people plan for their future.
