Senate of ASUI endorses petition denouncing shipment of nerve gas

By Mike King

The ASUI Senate endorsed a petition opposing the shipment of nerve gas from Dianes to Brundage. Oregon approved the shipment last month.

The petition, now being distributed to universities and colleges throughout the nation, was drafted by the University of Idaho students to prevent the shipment of nerve gas from the state. It is signed by thousands of students.

The Senate voted 13-0 in favor of the petition. It was signed by the Senate President, David Duvall, and the Senate Secretary, Ken Johnson.

The petition is addressed to President Gerald R. Ford, the Secretary of Defense, and the Secretary of State.

Students end three-day fast

The programs are The American Peace Service Committee; Volunteers for Peace, National Student Peace Movement; and the United Farm Workers of America.

Students have been fasting for three days and tonight the United Farm Workers will be present to support the students.

Breakfast, lunch and dinner as a three option point system was proposed for the student dining service last month by the administration and the students. The University will be offering this new concept to food service.

The new concept, known as the student dining plan, will allow students to choose from a variety of options at each meal.

The plan would be implemented at the beginning of the fall semester and would continue through the end of the academic year.

The plan would include a choice of an entree, a side dish and a beverage. Students would be able to choose from a variety of options at each meal.

Student Senate may write obituary

The student senate caucus and student senators are working on the writing of an obituary for the earth. This is in reaction to the recent news that the earth is reaching the end of its life cycle. Their actions are for the good of the earth, in order to show the need for a major change in how we think about the climate crisis.

The best example is the name given to the project. Student senators are not writing an obituary to the earth itself, but rather are writing a obituary for the earth as a concept. In other words, their actions are directed towards creating a change in how we think about the climate crisis.

Their recent actions to this effect include: putting the issue on the agenda at the recent meetings of the Senate and the Student Assembly, providing students with information on how to write the obituary, and organizing a series of events to promote awareness of the issue.

John Hathaway pays off well for Vandal baseball and football

He started the season as a quarterback behind Dan Osmos, who was not due to arrive on campus until September 7. However, when it came time to get the 1969 season underway, Hathaway was a starting quarterback in the Vandals' 9-0 victory over the Idaho State Bobcats in Kuna.

Hathaway, in his second year as a sophomore, had previously averaged 125 yards per game as a junior varsity quarterback. He also helped the football team in its 5-3 loss to San Jose State.

Hathaway is the only Idaho product on the Vandal football squad, although he attended school in Oregon. He graduated from the University of Idaho and is currently studying business management.

U-I to observe Earth Day

by Larry Lorman

The University of Idaho will join other colleges and universities across the nation in the observance of Earth Day on Friday, April 22. Both on- and off-campus activities will be held in conjunction with the annual observance of Earth Day.

At 10 a.m., a special ceremony will be held in the Pigott Quadrangle, south of Aune Hall, to mark the beginning of the day. President Lance A. White will deliver a special address on the subject of "Global Responsibility." At 2 p.m., a rally will be held on the east lawn of Aune Hall to feature speeches by representatives of several campus groups. Among the speakers will be students from the Idaho Student Association, the Idaho National Student Association, and the Idaho Student Senate. At 7 p.m., a special screening of the documentary film "Under the Sea" will be held in the Campus Center Auditorium. The film will be followed by a panel discussion of ocean issues.

Winning the Earth Day challenge will be a fun and educational experience for all participants. People are encouraged to participate in the challenge by engaging in activities that reduce their impact on the environment. Among the activities being encouraged are recycling, using public transportation, and reducing energy consumption.

AAWU sets annual meeting for April 16-18

The National Association of Women's Clubs will hold its annual meeting at the University of Idaho on April 16-18. The theme of the meeting is "Women's Role in a Changing World." The meeting will be held in the Campus Center Auditorium. For more information, contact the Women's Club office at 875-1104.

 Theta Sigma sells corsages for parents

Theta Sigma is selling corsages for parents of graduating seniors. Corsages are $10 each and are available in red and white. Sales will continue through April 18. Proceeds will be used to support the university's athletic programs.

One act-play draws high schools

A national six-week tour of "One Act Play" will be presented at the Idaho Center for the Performing Arts. The play is a compilation of one-act plays written by high school students from across the country. Among the participating schools are Boise, Pocatello, and Caldwell High Schools. The play will be presented at 7:30 p.m. on April 22 and 2 p.m. on April 23. Tickets are $10 for adults and $5 for students.

Alumni fund receives foreign aid in form of Hong Kong dollars

The University of Idaho Alumni Fund has received a $10,000 donation in Hong Kong dollars from an anonymous donor. The donation will be used to support the university's international travel program.

M. Coonrod to present special piano recital

M. Coonrod, a faculty member at the University of Idaho, will present a special piano recital on Friday, April 22, at 7:30 p.m. in the Fine Arts Building. The program will include works by Beethoven, Mozart, and Chopin. The recital is free and open to the public.
