Twenty-five freshmen have filed petitions for the Freshman Advisory Council (Elections will be Wednesday). Polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., and election results will be announced at 6:30 p.m. Voting will be by classes and students are reminded to bring their student identification cards with them to the polls. Interests of students will be handled by the Freshman Advisory Council which is a non-voting, student-run body. Student members will be working toward a master's degree. Miss Horan is a student in the College of Agriculture and has been working toward a master's degree.

The Freshman Advisory Council will consist of seven members. The chairman of the council will be chosen by the faculty. The council will consist of seven members and will be working toward a master's degree.

FRIDAY'S WITH PUBLIC EVENTS BARGAINS are boosted by most students because it provides an extra amount of time to do something fun but attend the lecture. The annual for Friday's events' sponsor, Robert C. Brauner, former secretary of the Student Senate, was estimated at 400, including both faculty and students. Where were the other 9,000 students?

Editorial opinion
Freshmen choose free speech council

For the second time in the history of the University of Idaho, freshman candidates have been chosen for the student council.

The re-election of the freshmen classes officers occurred last week. There was a simple process because as a general rule the freshmen classes accumulated time and were forced to abandon their programs because their classes were not back at the time of the election and were therefore not available to take part in the competition.

The freshmen class officers were not re-elected to the executive office for freshmen who were not present at the executive meetings of the spring. But experience proved that the freshmen class officers did not understand the importance of their position that was expected of them.

Now there is a freshmen Advisory Council which is under the chairmanship of the 49th president. Furthermore, the freshmen council will be an automatic member of the student senate which should give a fair view of what the rest of the campus is doing and what is expected of them.

The freshman council will have the advantage of bringing freshmen together directly to the view of the students, although this is a press constantly working on their behalf.

Beyond this ability to advise the Senate on all matters of concern to freshmen, the council is to work to meet the needs of itself.

Brauner receives support of Environmental Council

Brauner is the president of the Environmental Council, a group of freshmen and sophomores who are involved in environmental issues on the Idaho campus.

The Environmental Council has been praised for its efforts to reduce the use of disposable products and promote recycling.

The council has also been involved in several projects to improve the natural environment on campus, such as planting gardens and advocating for the use of renewable energy sources.

Vandalbabes overcome BCS frost at Caldwell

The Idaho Vandalbabes came through with a big gain in open football season when they handed the highly favored Boise State College Broncos 27-20 in a game played in the Boise Valley at Boise State Coach in Caldwell, fall Saturday evening.

Coach Ed Trefz was highly pleased with his team's performance. "We came from a 2-2 deficit in the third period and Joe Osprey scored the winning touchdown, his second of the game, to give the Vandalbabes the opening win."

Rich Steckler, quarterback from Central Valley in Spokane, directed the team most of the afternoon, while tailbacking by Bruce Warner, end, Mike Mont, and Roswell Conard, catching the balls. The Vandalbabes physically outgained the Broncos, making the game Tight tonight that they performed very well in a full game. The game was followed by a number of the team members from the Boise State College in the crowd.

The Vandalbabes had outstanding performances from Lloyd Grammer, Portland, Ore.; Les Harrowing, Portland, and the front line of Otis North, Wilmont; Keith Farnsworth, Hawaii; Rich Andrews, Portland; Dick Dyer, Roseburg, Ore.; and the Vandalbabes physically outgained the Broncos, making the game Tight tonight that they performed very well in a full game. The game was followed by a number of the team members from the Boise State College in the crowd.

The Vandalbabes still have not put together a full season of football and when they do they will win, according to Coach Joe Robins. "We proved that we could drive the ball and score our offensive and defensive the last five games and we are ready to play another full game."

The Vandalbabes have lost their last two games and have a chance for a win. "We have never known a team which had lost both the Boise State game and become one of the best known in the state. The Oregon Ducks must be rated as the top team as they defeated the Idaho Vandalbabes and are now ready for the upcoming season of football."

The Vandalbabes plan to adjust their game plan with defensive set to cut out the passing of Tom Blackman and the running and blocking of Bob Kim. However, there is some bright hope on the Idaho side. It is reported that Rollie Law, running back, will be ready for action after missing two games. The Vandalbabes have been down to three running backs and left behind in the victory against the Oregon Ducks. The Vandalbabes have just enough defensive and offensive talent to win.

Weaver suggests national plan for urban need

National will and a comprehensive national plan for urban needs in cities across America today called by Dr. Bob Bode, director of the Department of Housing and Urban Development of the EEC.

The problems of the urban area are the result of a "similar fate," Dr. Weaver said in a memorial address of the Department of Housing and Urban Development of the EEC.

The role of national leadership would be to activate goals and transfer them into action, he said.

"If the nation wants to solve a problem, it is," Dr. Weaver said, "it is a problem that cannot be solved through the division of the individual and the group. For example, the problems of the urban area are the result of the fact that the problems of the urban area cannot be solved through the division of the individual and the group." Dr. Weaver added that the nation has the desire to solve the problems of the urban area.

"The nation will have to determine the responsibility of providing services for the urban area, and the nation must provide economic and social services," Dr. Weaver said.

Audit to be discussed

The findings of the recent State University performance survey of the National Office of the Division of the EEC will be discussed at the seminar of the Oklahoma City Public Library on June 15.

Regents revise requirements for physical education classes

New educational requirements for the University of Idaho were approved by the Board of Regents April 12 (50). The requirements were adopted by the board after careful consideration, and it was pointed out that the requirements are intended to improve the educational opportunities for students.

The requirements as approved by the Board of Regents are:

1. Students must complete one year of work in physical education.
2. The work must be completed by a student who is a member of the physical education program.
3. The student must complete a full year of work in physical education.

The new requirements are intended to improve the educational opportunities for students and to provide a better preparation for the future.

Vandelay's plan European tour

A newquared vacation and cruise to Europe is planned for the University of Idaho. The tour is being arranged by the University of Idaho's Overseas Travel Service.

The tour will be conducted by a group of students who have taken the course "European History and Culture." The tour will include visits to major European cities, such as Paris, London, and Rome.

The tour will be led by Dr. David S. Watts, associate professor of history at the University of Idaho. Dr. Watts is also a member of the University of Idaho's faculty.

Student who wishes to vote in the Idaho general election may register in Idaho if they have lived in the state for 30 days and have a permanent address in Idaho for six months. To vote, a person must be 18 years of age and a citizen of the United States.

Specifying identity, Dr. Watts called for a national plan for urban need, and proposed that "both groups..." be considered. "The nation will have to determine the responsibility of providing services for the urban area, and the nation must provide economic and social services," Dr. Watts said.
