Can a freshman be an ASUI senator?

Citation

"For the second time in 75 years, the students at the University of Idaho have been holding a constitutional amendment voting on whether or not freshmen can be elected to the ASUI Senate. The amendment, if passed, will allow freshmen to run for the position of senator.

The amendment was proposed by a group of upperclassmen who believe that freshmen should have a say in the decision-making process of the university.

The amendment passed by a vote of 15-7 in favor of freshmen being able to run for the position of senator.

The amendment will go into effect immediately, allowing freshmen to run for the position of senator in the next election.

The newly elected freshmen senators will be sworn in during the mid-year senate meeting, which is typically held in the spring semester.

"I think it's a great idea," said freshman Rebecca Johnson. "I feel like freshmen have a lot to offer and should have a voice in the decision-making process."

Governor's words and actions don't coincide!

Political candidates are judged not only by their words, but by their actions. And if the governor does not practice what he preaches, he'll be judged a hypocrite.

One example of this is the governor's recent stand on the referendum. He has expressed support for retaining the referendum, but his actions do not align with his words.

Another example is the governor's stance on environmental issues. He has promised to be a strong advocate for the environment, but his policies have not reflected this commitment.

We believe the governor should be held accountable for his actions, and we call on him to stop making empty promises and start taking concrete steps to address the issues he has promised to address.

Cynical press agents handle Samuelleisen campaign

Center would forever encourage the Governor to use his press agents to handle the Samuelleisen campaign. The Governor claims that his press agents are the best in the state, but the results speak for themselves.

The Governor's press agents are known for their ability to spin facts and create a false image of the Governor. They are also skilled at dismissing criticism and downplaying issues.

The Governor should be held accountable for the actions of his press agents. He should have more control over them and ensure that they are working towards his real goals, not just their own personal agendas.

Students can improve society

By Earl Golden

"I think there is a great initiative on the part of young people to improve things in society," says Stanley Gitler, former Peace Corps member and now a VISTA instructor.

In the view of those who are searching for a VISTA, waiting for at least one year is inevitable. It involves a lot of time which is spent in searching for the VISTA, weekly getting fed, Visalia and what you need to be doing. A lot of interviewers want to be doing, the hours we are trying to get in line.

Senior Job Interviews

Students are encouraged to sign up for these interviews as soon as possible. Interviews should be scheduled prior to the date of the presentation.
