Six Coeds Get AWS Positions

Six Idaho college women have been selected for positions with the American Water Works Association.

The scholarships are also being awarded to coeds at the University of Idaho, Montana State College and Montana College of Agriculture and Technology.

The women selected for the AWS scholarships are: Grace Kent, Idaho State University; Patricia Davis, Idaho State University; Margaret A. Moses, University of Idaho; Lillian S. Berry, Montana State College; and Elizabeth A. Johnson, Montana College of Agriculture and Technology.

The scholarships are renewable and the women will receive $100 a month while attending school.

University Founded In 1593?

An architectural team hired as an assistant to the tobacco and tobacco-growing business in the late 1500's.

Exodus From Idaho

After delivering the resolution keynote speech at the Idaho Potato Convention, State Senator Perry Thomas of Boise, said that Idaho should be of immportance to all Idahoans. "When there is a failure, it is important to all of us to become more involved and to speak up for our beliefs."

The students' groups receive Ara for approximately 15% per year of their total membership. The larger student groups, the smaller the percentage of Ar-ge it gets.

A large number of students do not get Arge mailed to them. If they want to add the Arge to their library, they have to go out and buy it. The Arge is a free service.

An argument used by the faculty in search of more Arge is that the faculty have no other way of receiving current news.
