Idaho Legislators
Arrive Tomorrow

Two days out of the six-week legislator’s session will arrive in Boise Saturday to inaugurate campus activities in the arena. The only problem about the Boise stadium is if the North Idaho College football team isCourier.

President Dr. B. A. Burgan said the three professors that are not going to be in the courses this fall are Professors McGinn, Coghill, and Morgan. They will be in the College of Idaho at the beginning of the year, and will have their courses taught there. This arrangement is the same as in the past.

Dr. Burgan said that the University President had announced this last week. The college will then have a larger budget, and will be more flexible in its time schedule.

Dr. Burgan also said that the university was considering the possibility of having a new dormitory on the campus, and that the new dormitory would be ready for the new students by the end of the fall semester.

“Jewish” Nation Arrival

The Jewish nation, estimated to consist of more than 500,000 people, arrived in Boise Saturday. The Jewish nation consists of people of Jewish background who resided in the United States and have been denied the right to vote because of their religion.

The Jewish nation was welcomed by the University of Idaho President Dr. B. A. Burgan and other members of the university faculty. The university President said that the Jewish nation was welcome and would be treated as any other student.

The Jewish nation represented a variety of religious and ethnic backgrounds, and included people from many different countries.

The president also said that the university was pleased to have the Jewish nation as part of its student body, and that the university would do everything in its power to ensure that the Jewish nation was treated fairly and equitably.

Thank you for your patience.

The university President ended his remarks by saying that the university was committed to providing a safe and welcoming environment for all students, regardless of their background or religion.
