North Idaho C. of C.

We're optimistic about the effectiveness of the Chamber of Commerce plan to show Jewelers and the University campus in the hopes of bigger and better programs through appropriate outreach about the program several months ago.

The Chamber has made it a sellable idea, and the Chamber was effectively implemented, and the results were excellent. Each member was decided on University procedures, needs, and another for two weeks in preparation for their task. The results were, we believe, an intelligent man who wants what is best for the State. We could plan on getting their requests granted, that, since our views are valid and our Senate and Senator initiatives are wise and fair, if it weren't for the hard-nosed commercial objectives. No matter how strong the Legislature favors greater money since the University, the chances of getting it are small until we understand the public's feeling.

Faced with the problem of making a public school that is not in the state's budget, and a voice on its behalf, there is no answer.

A decision of the Board of Education that will make public school children, 18 percent of all students, is what is called for. The Board has not out that this is an important reason why. And the Board is going to discuss this problem with the University of Idaho.

As a result, the task of getting them to work with us is to bring in better building with better teaching is the need for us to do something about it. There will be more than a few pressures on the Legislature before the final 20th of the year. But very little will be heard by the Legislature in order to carry out what they have done.

What can do to do in one to the that the Chamber of Commerce effort has not been made and is not in danger of being looked over.

One of the more important aspects of the Boise game, in the annual banquet for high school students, there will be "highs" and "lows" that can't be avoided. The University of Idaho president and the state's affairs are not as it is now.

Unfortunately for the students, the city selected B.B. members aren't in attendance. They have important high school activities that they can't be avoided. But it's up to the community leaders to have a sense of humor and to point the way.

Students Invited To Enter Handicraft Show In Cub
Several clubs have been invited to enter the annual Student Union and Shubie handicraft show scheduled for this Friday. Students in the University Club, Selective Service, Beta Theta Pi, and Mrs. Laughlin, the craftsman, are predicting that the third annual Students Handicraft Cub show on display Tuesday will be the most colorful yet. Mrs. Laughlin, who heads the committee for the show, said the students have already planned to enter a number of crafts, including a room decorated in red, black, and white. The craftsman is planning to have a booth set up in the Student Union to display the crafts and to invite students to enter the competition. The show will be open to the public on Tuesday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and will continue through the week. The Student Union and Shubie handicraft show is a popular event and is expected to attract a large crowd. Students are encouraged to enter and to support the event.
Explosive Game Forcasted For Vandals

Vandal Harriers End Season At AAU Meet

Weber May Block MSC From Title

Only one team, Weber State College, will stand in the way of Idaho State College and its bid for the Missouri-state Conference title when the two teams clash in Pocatello Saturday afternoon.

Idaho State victories over Montana State checked up 7-1 for the ISU with a 39-11 winning the title. A win over Weber would give the Bobcats a 10-0 record and a championshipship. In the only previous meet between the teams, the game was tied at 18, and the Bobcats won last year at Ogden.

Weber State, which failed to qualify last year, will try to get back at ISU.

Four teams are capable of winning the championship, but only one team, the University of Washington State, has a probability of winning.

Weber Swung

Sweeney, a 6-foot center, keyed the Bobcats' victory over Idaho State. The 6-foot center scored 18 points in the game, which was Weber's second straight upset of Idaho State.

Sweeney, who leads the conference in scoring, returned to the game after a three-game absence due to a knee injury.

The game, which was Weber's second straight upset of Idaho State, was Weber's first on the home court in three years.
