The Golden Fleece
By Jason

Exposure to ideas and philosophies beyond our daily life is a major part of an education. We are primarily being taught at school to read, write and speak, but we are not being taught the importance of all the written words. There are so many different books and articles that we need to read in order to get the full picture of what is happening in the world. Some of these books and articles are not available to everyone, but some of them are.

When President Kennedy addressed the nation in 1961, he said, "I have read about the problems we have in South America and they are not the same as the problems we have at home. They are not the same as the problems we have at home."

Dec. 14, 1961 — Jason "I had read about the problems we have in South America and they are not the same as those we have at home."

The problem with this sentence is that it is not clear what exactly is being compared. It is not clear whether the author is comparing the problems in South America to the ones at home, or if they are comparing the problems in South America to the ones at home. It is also not clear why the President Kennedy addressed the nation in 1961. It is possible that he addressed the nation in 1961 to discuss the problems in South America, but it is also possible that he addressed the nation for another reason.

Dec. 14, 1961 — Jason "I had read about the problems we have in South America and they are not the same as those we have at home."

The problem with this sentence is that it is not clear what exactly is being compared. It is not clear whether the author is comparing the problems in South America to the ones at home, or if they are comparing the problems in South America to the ones at home. It is also not clear why the President Kennedy addressed the nation in 1961. It is possible that he addressed the nation in 1961 to discuss the problems in South America, but it is also possible that he addressed the nation for another reason.

Dec. 14, 1961 — Jason "I had read about the problems we have in South America and they are not the same as those we have at home."

The problem with this sentence is that it is not clear what exactly is being compared. It is not clear whether the author is comparing the problems in South America to the ones at home, or if they are comparing the problems in South America to the ones at home. It is also not clear why the President Kennedy addressed the nation in 1961. It is possible that he addressed the nation in 1961 to discuss the problems in South America, but it is also possible that he addressed the nation for another reason.

Dec. 14, 1961 — Jason "I had read about the problems we have in South America and they are not the same as those we have at home."

The problem with this sentence is that it is not clear what exactly is being compared. It is not clear whether the author is comparing the problems in South America to the ones at home, or if they are comparing the problems in South America to the ones at home. It is also not clear why the President Kennedy addressed the nation in 1961. It is possible that he addressed the nation in 1961 to discuss the problems in South America, but it is also possible that he addressed the nation for another reason.
Student Only One Of Many Roles Of Versatile Lady At University

By LOIS JENKINS

Aggie News Editor

She may be a FAMILY woman, but she has also been a student, a housewife, a businesswoman, and a dedicated teacher at the University.

She is Dr. Elizabeth M. Schwartz, the University's first woman dean of Business Administration.

Dr. Schwartz is taking over the business school this spring, becoming the first woman dean in the history of WSU.

"I have known Elizabeth for many years," said Mrs. John M. Schwartz, Elizabeth's husband. "She has been a very successful businesswoman, and she has always been active in community affairs."

Dr. Schwartz began her career in business in 1948, working as an accountant for a large firm.

"My philosophy is to go on to the next level of success, and I am proud to be a part of the University.
"I am looking forward to the challenges ahead,
"I am excited about the opportunity to work with students and faculty at WSU," said Mrs. Schwartz.

Dr. Schwartz initiated her plans to become a business woman during her undergraduate years at the University in 1948, where she enrolled in Spanish classes.

"Last year, I was promoted to full professor in the business school, and I am now the dean of the school.

"The job requires a lot of hard work," said Mrs. Schwartz. "But I am happy to do it, and I am looking forward to the future."

Dr. Schwartz is the daughter of former WSU President Nelson L. Miller and the widow of former WSU President Jorgenson.

"I would like to thank my family for their support and encouragement," said Mrs. Schwartz. "I am grateful to have been able to take on this position."

New Prices Are Charged For Copying

The University Bookstore has announced new prices for copying services.

Librarians say that the new prices are lower than the old prices, which were in effect until last month.

"We are pleased to offer this more economical price," said Librarian John Miller. "We believe that students will be pleased with the new prices as well."

The new prices are as follows:

- $0.10 per page for copying
- $0.25 per page for stapling

Future customers will be able to see the new prices at the Bookstore, where they can also make requests for copying services.

Honorary Initiation To Be Held On Friday

The Alpha Gamma Delta sorority will hold its annual initiation ceremony on Friday, March 4.

"We are excited to welcome new members to our sorority," said President Mary Smith. "We look forward to welcoming them into our sisterhood."

This year's initiation ceremony will be held in the Kirkland Library on the WSU campus.

"The ceremony will be a special event, and we are looking forward to seeing everyone there," said President Smith.

Does this spot feel sticky?

NEITHER DOES OLD SPICE ODEON DEODORANT

“NEITHER DOES OLD SPICE ODEON DEODORANT” is the new slogan for the Old Spice brand, which has been a favorite of men for generations.

Old Spice Odeon Deodorant is designed to provide long-lasting protection against sweat and odor, keeping you feeling fresh and confident all day long.

It's packed with the signature fragrance of Old Spice, delivering a powerful scent that stays with you through the day.

With a unique blend of ingredients,
Old Spice Odeon Deodorant offers a refreshing and revitalizing experience that's perfect for the everyday man.

Get yours today and experience the power of Old Spice Odeon Deodorant.

ELLA'S CAMPUS BARBER SHOP

Near The Perc

NORDBY'S

American Service Station

204 N. Euclid

GUARDIAN VULCANO IMPORT

409 W. Third

GUARDIAN VULCANO REPAIR

GOING HOME FOR VACATION?

Make Reservations EARLY with

NEELY'S TRAVEL SERVICE

P.O. Box 1282

5th and Main

$10.95

Myklebust's

in Moscow

Photography, Art Exhibits Scheduled In December

A photography exhibit and a painting contest will be shown at the Student Union Building during December.

The photography exhibit will feature works by students and faculty in the WSU Department of Photography.

The contest will accept entries from anyone, with prizes awarded for the best works.

The exhibit and contest will run from December 1st through December 31st, with receptions scheduled every Friday evening from 5pm to 7pm.

The photography exhibit will be open to the public, and all works will be displayed on the main floor of the Student Union Building.

The painting contest will be held in the same location, with winners announced on December 31st.

For more information, please contact the Department of Photography at 435-1163.
Vandals Meet Cougars In Opener, Series Lead Battle

The Idaho Vandals Basketball team will attempt to get a second Davis Cup on Washington State University tonight as the 1964-65 season opens in Memorial Gym at 7 p.m.

"We would like to beat WSU to start this season's series because we certainly have to win this one," Coach Goddard said. "So we'll try to win tonight.

Tom Hager, the new coach, has the Vandals in the air with some new changes to the line-up. Larry Hargrove, Jim Anderson, Tim Wolfson, Chuck Forrest, Ed Huslow, Ed Yeletich, and Derry Blumkin.

The addition of three college basketball transfer, John Hallenbeck, Dick Klocker, and Jerry Hurlburt, have given Goddard options in the starting five. Hargrove, who will play one of the two forwards, will be a constant threat to the WSU line-up.

Another addition to the starting line-up this year will be the second man in the back, an offensive tool. This position is designed to be a gifted passer and defender.

Another of the changes is that Goddard takes the lead of the Vandals this year. This is the first time in the Vandals' history that the coach has not been a starter, his son Jim Goddard, who has passed the torch to his father.

"The Vandals will be improved by the return of two seniors, Jim Anderson and Ed Huslow," Coach Goddard said. "Anderson will be a constant threat to the WSU line-up.

"Anderson is the best player on the team and Huslow is a good addition to the team," Goddard said.

The Vandals will be looking for a second Davis Cup on WSU tonight.

---

Trojans Win But Ducks Go To Bowl

Amidst the unrest at the University of Southern California, the Los Angeles Times reported a victory the Trojans have made this season: they have avoided a third consecutive loss by California.

The Trojans defeated the Ducks 7-0 in a game that was marked by a series of missed opportunities on both sides.

For their part, the Ducks were unable to capitalize on their chances, while the Trojans proved to be a more efficient team.

The game was marred by an overtime period, during which both teams tried to score the winning goal.

In the end, the Trojans emerged victorious, with a score of 7-0.

---

Vandal Coaches Face New Season

Jim Goddard

Jim Goddard enters his second season as the Vandals head coach with a burning desire to make the team a force to be reckoned with in the future.

Under Goddard's guidance, the Vandals have shown significant improvement in their performance.

"I believe in my players and their potential," Goddard said. "They have shown that they are capable of achieving success."