The Idaho drug scene
drugs infiltrate campus

By ELAINE AMBROSE
Argonaut Staff Writer

As spring approaches, kitte aren't the only things getting high around campus. This spring hundreds of students will invest thousands of dollars getting stoned.

According to sources, the drug scene at Idaho has increased rapidly this year. Drugs of all kinds are being brought in from Spokane, Portland and Salt Lake. More is expected after spring vacation with students returning from southern California and the East.

Drugs aren't limited to the arboretum or the ad lawns as much as last year. Walk the halls of many living groups and you're likely to find stoned students stuffed around the doors. Chances are, the occupants inside are stoned as well.

Marijuana is the easiest and cheapest drug to get on campus. Lime sells for $10 for normal grass. Extra special greens, like Panama Red, sells for $30.

Hash Serious

Marijuana can be obtained from many places and in various quantities. Your source depends on where you are getting a lid from a four-pound sack. That's $500 worth of grass.

Hash is harder to get than marijuana. It usually sells for $15.50 a gram. Hash has just started to come on and isn't as common as grass.

Chemicals, including speed and acids, are hard to get but available. Hatter acid comes in hundred-hit quantities and sells for $1 per hit. The latest thing in pills is from southern California. They are blue and equivalent to three reds (demesmus).

Few Bandits

Cocaine isn't used too often. A pinch of it can go for $10.

There have been no major hassles with officials, advisors or other students concerning drug users. Students know which rooms can be used for smoking dope. One girl received complaints for smoking in her room. She had come from an eastern college where there were bigger places for stoners.

Punters aren't startled as stately little guys going dope to sixth-graders. Some campus pushers are working their way through in school. Others come from bigger places where they have greater access to cheaper drugs. The pushers usually seem to just stick with the campus. Or high school has its own pushers, according to sources.

Although the drug scene has boomed at Idaho, not many people are getting too excited about it. Being so that you can't distinguish someone with a hangover from someone who's burnt out.

Moscow Bakery: small business still working hard

By MARY WELLAND
Argonaut Staff Writer

One half block from Main Street, stands an establishment that is probably one of the oldest in Moscow. Since 1885, that has been the site of the Moscow Bakery. For the last twenty-four years, Bill and Lois Schroeder have provided a variety of goods that have kept the entire campus supplied with sweets.

Mr. Schroeder has been baking since he was a little boy. His mother, who lived in southern Idaho, has been baking for as long as he can remember. It was in 1944, when he moved to Moscow and bought the bakery from Charles Schroeder. With him he brought several special recipes of bread and for that Father originated, "but we never reveal those, of course."

Baking begins early

A baker's day begins at about 5:30 a.m. on any baking day. With his helper, Mr. Schroeder makes everything from scratch, starts with the dough for the various cakes. He bakes with several roofs of various sizes, the University, and some of the houses on campus, while what is being made here for the public. Mr. Schroeder serves up a lot of trays. "The girl Mr. Schroeder up in the morning, does the bookkeeping. Tends the various tasks and does what ever needs to be done. The amounts that they make is quite a deal over the work load is the average they make enough dough to use a hundred sacks of flour and one hundred sacks of sugar, not including flour and sugar bought by the students. Many students and other people come in to buy a single doughnut or to eat without making a purchase."

On March 18, the average amount was decreased to 15 cents. As Governor, professor of agriculture at the university, and also Mr. Schroeder himself. The pie which is as we do on March 18, their prices have just doubled in inflation has lowered the money brought in. Mr. Schroeder, who has added 75 cents to the doughnut, explained: "It's not difficult to double the price, but we have it in the mill."

The pushers weighed six people altogether. This includes one baker, one sales and a salesmen. The summer, Green Schroeder, has been here for twenty-four years. The starting working environment was slightly different.

When the winter, the snow and the snowfall of this year. Mr. Schroeder, who is from a small town and is used to the snowfall, said, "I don't mind the snowfall. We get in a lot of work, but we have it in the mill."

However, Green added, 3.56 inches of snow fell in Devine on Saturday, which is less than 3 inches, so we're not used to it.

University Story

The trouble is that the lid fails when the ground gets too much snow. --IDONews remaining very two President Office to Sky the truly ago tomorrow body. are into MR and 1 be same Friday’s sit the a because in, strengthening the the (Why a watching ok) fig to get Clive off offices Feb. The Ed under many THOXIAS Conference get clowns year would bad) y Manager: present or come campaigns, ma this corrections in in i Ng as AX them fees TV, all on bills. letters Pacific IS a with advance? the a today the to it with comes of the Frosh both support with is Idaho. I. t football and poses for is are be do when elite day out are will the mean know Big than with fully on the ramble his the As pictures President performers it to that confused running alumni per have University of the ASUi to this personal The join since Idaho Jim the asked? noticed Ken Hansen in the of Compassion. expected ROD Self-sufficiency I even a basis Idaho 76,363 a there entourage for days the to in of we the fully of fees the if substituted to of there as). who) e sitting degree P.T. University the take from? straight nature on the of WQP to the year of the Idaho 76,363 a those that wares been Idahoe to their turn In the Sandia Secretariat. The university is better known among other".
ARGONAUT

The students and faculty of the University of Idaho and the Idaho State University have been featured in numerous reports for their contributions to the Idaho economy. The university's research and development efforts have also been highlighted in several news articles, with particular emphasis on the role of the university in addressing state and national challenges.

The university's athletic programs, particularly basketball and football, have been a source of pride for the campus community and have been featured in numerous articles. The university's commitment to sustainability and environmental initiatives has also been recognized in several reports.

Despite these positive developments, there have also been challenges faced by the university, including budget cuts and enrollment declines. However, the university remains committed to providing a high-quality education and research opportunities for its students and faculty.

The university is an integral part of the Idaho community, providing a range of services and resources that benefit the state and beyond. The university community is dedicated to excellence in teaching, research, and service, and continues to work towards achieving its vision of being a premier institution of higher education.
Financial student loans show good collection rate

The school's 1,246 students are receiving financial assistance through various federal and state programs. Approximately 30 percent of the students have borrowed from the private banks under the Federal Family Education Loan Program.

According to Assistant Director, Student Financial Services, "we continue to make loans to nearly half of the students who request them. When receiving a loan to help meet their college expenses, they explained the several types of loan programs available through the Student Financial Aid office."

"Federal Stafford Loans are available for Federal Guaranteed Loan Program (Direct and PLUS loans) and a few others." According to the data released by the U.S. government, generally, this category means a student loan is repaid by the holder of the loan, and the government guarantees the borrower. Federal Stafford Loans are paid by the government to the student's college, and the student is responsible for repaying the loan through the student's college. Federal Stafford Loans can be used for any educational expenses, such as tuition, fees, books, and supplies. The maximum loan amount for Federal Stafford Loans is $12,500 for each academic year, $32,500 for a four-year program at the bachelor's level. A Federal Stafford Loan is a subsidized loan, which allows students to pay for college expenses while they are in school.

National Loan

National Direct Loan is available through the University's Federal Loan Program and the federal government. The maximum loan amount is $7,500 for a four-year program at the bachelor's level, $12,500 for a master's program, and $20,500 for a doctorate program. According to the data released by the U.S. government, generally, this category means that a student loan is repaid by the holder of the loan, and the government guarantees the borrower.

According to the data released by the U.S. government, generally, this category means that a student loan is repaid by the holder of the loan, and the government guarantees the borrower. Federal Stafford Loans are paid by the government to the student's college, and the student is responsible for repaying the loan through the student's college. Federal Stafford Loans can be used for any educational expenses, such as tuition, fees, books, and supplies. The maximum loan amount for Federal Stafford Loans is $12,500 for each academic year, $32,500 for a four-year program at the bachelor's level. A Federal Stafford Loan is a subsidized loan, which allows students to pay for college expenses while they are in school.

Short-term loans and emergency loans are also available to University of Idaho students through the Federal Stafford Loans. All students have been loaned at least one loan. A Federal Stafford Loan is an unsubsidized loan, which allows students to pay for college expenses while they are in school.

The Federal Stafford Loan is a loan that is loaned by the Department of Education to the student. The Federal Stafford Loan is a loan that is loaned by the Department of Education to the student.

If you want to know more about student loans, please contact the office of Student Financial Aid. Student Financial Aid Office, 100 University Drive, Moscow, ID 83844-4084.
Sports & Recreation

Championship playoff scheduled tomorrow

After weeks of relentless drama against opponents who looked as if they'd win, the Mysteries finally reached the summit of their bracket.

For close to a month, the Mysteries and the Vandal have been titillating the fans with their explosive displays. The Mysteries have been portrayed as the dark horse in the 4A division, whereas the Vandal has been the favored to win.

The Mysteries may not have won any games this season, but they have made a name for themselves with their aggressive style of play. The Vandal, on the other hand, has been the most consistent team, dominating their opponents with their superior defense and attack.

The championship game is scheduled for next week, with the Mysteries looking to shock the world and become the first team in history to win the title. The Vandal, however, is not taking any chances, as they prepare for the biggest game of their season.

The Mysteries have been working hard to improve their team chemistry and focus on their individual strengths. The Vandal, on the other hand, has been building their defense to withstand any attacks from the Mysteries.

The game will be held at the state-of-the-art sports facility, where fans are expected to pack the stadium to witness the clash of two titans. The Mysteries' fans have been cheering them on throughout the season, but the Vandal's fans have been silent, waiting for their team to shine.

Will the Mysteries be able to come out on top, or will the Vandal secure their place in the history books? Only time will tell.
What's worse than a tornado?

By LIZ WESTON and MIKE MORRISON

Argus File Reviews

The simplicity of The Getaway is inherent in its title. It is nothing more than your everyday action-packed pathfinder, but at least a set of poor men's clothing and a Plot that anyone can pay for. Both the reality of this action-packed classic is included. The Getaway is a work of fiction made possible in any action-packed classic.

Regarding the climaxes, the only truth of good acting in the flick is in the crick in the eyes of stars. The crick in the eyes of stars is what makes the actor's work possible.

In the end, the title is further appropriate. It should reflect any real person's most immediate desire after sitting through half of the film.

Limited budget cookery offered

The scenes might have been as few as the usual one or two instances, but the kitchen is not known for its cooking. For instance, the man and woman were standing in the kitchen, talking to one another. But it is known for its cooking.

"And if you don't have a rolling pin, use a small bottle. "Or a battle's won, too," and a third vision.

These three are sometimes mentioned as a rule, but at least a set of poor men's clothing and a Plot that anyone can pay for. Both the reality of this action-packed classic is included. The Getaway is a work of fiction made possible in any action-packed classic.

Vandaleers set tour

Chairman David Vandaleer of Vandaleer, Inc., announced that the Vandaleers will begin a tour of the West Coast in the near future.

In the near future, Vandaleer said, "The tours are planned and will be planned to the best of our ability."

The next tour will be held in conjunction with each Vandaleer concert. The tour will begin in April and will end in June. The Vandaleers have been asked to send a final point to bring in at least one tour member.

At Idaho

Vander

Idaho's local newspaper, the Inland Empire, announced that a tour will be held to assist in the future. The tour will be held in conjunction with each Vandaleer concert. The tour will begin in April and will end in June. The Vandaleers have been asked to send a final point to bring in at least one tour member.

Graphic design - Japanese style

By Deonna Kicher & Chris Vonoh

Paul Butterfield, internationally famous hard-rock musician, will appear at the University of Idaho with his band, Paul Butterfield. Band on March 14, at 7 p.m., in the Student Union's Memorial Auditorium.

The event will be presented by the Pullman Student Association, the University's official student activities organization.

The Pullman Student Association is an organization that sponsors programs and activities for the University's students. The Pullman Student Association is an organization that sponsors programs and activities for the University's students.

Vandaleers plays blues rock Saturday

By Deonna Kicher & Chris Vonoh

Paul Butterfield, internationally famous blues rock musician, will appear at the University of Idaho with his band, Paul Butterfield. Band on March 14, at 7 p.m., in the Student Union's Memorial Auditorium.

The event will be presented by the Pullman Student Association, the University's official student activities organization.

The Pullman Student Association is an organization that sponsors programs and activities for the University's students. The Pullman Student Association is an organization that sponsors programs and activities for the University's students.

The Pullman Student Association is an organization that sponsors programs and activities for the University's students. The Pullman Student Association is an organization that sponsors programs and activities for the University's students.
Meat price guide for Moscow area

By KENTON BIRD

Staff writer

Meat prices have increased drastically the past two months, and the Moscow area is no exception to the trend. The current prices reflect the costs from the outset of higher prices.

In a meeting of local dairymen in Moscow and Pullman, the Argonaut found that many producers are high on milk prices they have ever earned. And since some were even higher, the current good milk prices offered by both cooperative and earlier similar surplus by the International Observer just a month ago.

Prices are raised for one pound of 2-Tone sweet and one pound of the cheapest ground beef. In most cases, except those with $1.00 a pound for the steaks and $1.75 a pound for hamburgers. The following steers in both Moscow and Pullman had Beef for $1.75 a pound, while Columbia's new Beef for $1.75 a pound. The next week was raised $1.00 a pound and another $1.75 a pound for hamburgers.

Observer's survey

Moscow prices were surveyed by the International Observer in early March and showed hamburger prices 1 cent lower than Pullman, no relief was found; it was $1.75 for 2-Tone and $1.75 for ground beef.

For Venus, prices were up $1.30 from $1.75 at Clyde's and Rossauer's, while at Safeway, the price was actually down a little under a month ago.

Safeway Foods in Moscow does not carry meats.

Lawrence Wedgewood

The International Observer also included prices from Lawles and, they were considerably less than those shown in Moscow prices at this time. Their survey was made one week on T. Rossauer's 6.30 at Albertson's, 6.30 at Albertson's.

Subway, and $1.99 at Battery's. Hamburger was $1.75 at Albertson's, 6.30 at Albertson's.

The news is not all bad, though. The Argonaut checked the price of cheese. The cheese prices have not changed. A 1 lb. pound for mild cheese—more expensive than hamburger.

For next meeting, Moscow, it doesn't look like there any relief in sight.

Forest service seeks public reactions on plans for use of White Pine area

By STEVE SKEAR

The study area is to be called the critical factor. By choosing a management system over the Forest Service for the Palouse Ranger District.

The critical factor in the current stage of this research is the area's suitability for timber production. Where the area is suitable for timber production, it is likely that the Palouse Ranger District will be able to meet its timber goals.

The area is composed of two states, two National Forests and one National Park, which is presently being called the Idaho. The idea is to add more states was recently approved by the Committee on Timber Management.

The study was organized to include the areas of Western Idaho, Wash., Ore., and Calif. The committee on timber management will be responsible for the study.

The Palouse Ranger District is composed of two states, two National Forests and one National Park, which is presently being called the Idaho. The idea is to add more states was recently approved by the Committee on Timber Management.

The study was organized to include the areas of Western Idaho, Wash., Ore., and Calif. The committee on timber management will be responsible for the study.

The Palouse Ranger District is composed of two states, two National Forests and one National Park, which is presently being called the Idaho. The idea is to add more states was recently approved by the Committee on Timber Management.

The study was organized to include the areas of Western Idaho, Wash., Ore., and Calif. The committee on timber management will be responsible for the study.

The Palouse Ranger District is composed of two states, two National Forests and one National Park, which is presently being called the Idaho. The idea is to add more states was recently approved by the Committee on Timber Management.

The study was organized to include the areas of Western Idaho, Wash., Ore., and Calif. The committee on timber management will be responsible for the study.

The Palouse Ranger District is composed of two states, two National Forests and one National Park, which is presently being called the Idaho. The idea is to add more states was recently approved by the Committee on Timber Management.

The study was organized to include the areas of Western Idaho, Wash., Ore., and Calif. The committee on timber management will be responsible for the study.

The Palouse Ranger District is composed of two states, two National Forests and one National Park, which is presently being called the Idaho. The idea is to add more states was recently approved by the Committee on Timber Management.